College Bond Issue, Tax Increase Vote

See Editorial On Page 16

Just off Skyline Boulevard at College Drive in San Bruno a sign proclaims: "Future Site of Skyline College . . . Opening September, 1969."

Voters of the San Mateo Junior College District on March 26 will determine whether or not that sign represents a pipe dream.

Citizens of the county, except those in the La Honda-Pescadero area — will ballot on two proposals:

—A $3.1 million bond issue to finish first-phase construction at Skyline College, and at the district's second new campus, Canada College, now under construction in the South County.

—A 12-cent, three-year increase in the tax limit to furnish and equip both new colleges and meet the higher operational costs involved in running multiple campuses, instead of just one as is presently the case at the College of San Mateo.

Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, superintendent of the district, commenting recently, emphasized: "The educational future of thousands of students is on the line in the election. We desperately need our two new colleges to help absorb the district's rapidly increasing enrollments, and both election proposals must be passed to bring those colleges to satisfactory reality."

Bortolazzo pointed out that if the proposals are not approved, "Skyline College will not open in 1969."

He said that for the owner of a home with a $15,000 market value, the total tax bill will be 42-cents a month for the first three years and about five-cents a month thereafter for the remainder of the 25-year bonding period.

The monthly figures on a $20,000 home are 56-cents and six-cents, respectively, he said; and on a $25,000 home, 70-cents and eight-cents.

The proposals have gained wide-spread organizational support, among the latest being the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

In the meantime, a few blocks west of where the sign stands, in a 112-acre land bowl on the lee side of the coastal ridge, construction crews keep pace with a tight schedule designed to have nearly $6 millions worth of first-phase Skyline College facilities ready for occupancy by the deadline shown on the sign.

Transit Study Is Delayed

Selection of a financial consultant for the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority master plan study was delayed again on Monday by the Board of Directors. Involved is transit financing.

The board decided to start all over again after an unsuccessful bidder complained about the way the bids were called.

General Manager John C. Lilly recommended on March 4 that Arthur D. Little Associates of San Francisco, which proposed to do the financial study for $12,000 to $15,000, be awarded the contract. He said that Little, which originally bid $48,000 on the premise that it would be doing quite a bit of original research, reduced its concept of the scope of the work and submitted the bid for the lower figure.

Director Micheal DeBernardi suggested that another consulting firm, Stone and Youngberg, which had not bid because it felt the scope of the work to be too great for the time allowed, be given another chance to submit a bid. And member Jean Fas-

Brentwood Alley Subject Of Petition

About 45 residents of the Brentwood area in South San Francisco have petitioned the city council to relocate the entrance to a bowling alley on El Camino Real.

The homeowners presented their petition Monday, requesting that the Brentwood Bowl entrance facing Northwood Drive be moved to the front of the building, facing on El Camino Real.

6 Candidates Field Queries

Six candidates in the upcoming Daly City council race fielded questions hurled at them for two hours during a "candidates' night" Monday sponsored by the Hillside Homeowners Association.

The questions ranged from transportation problems now plaguing the city, to the increasing amount of taxes a homeowner must pay each year.

One person even demanded to know the candidates' stand on the Vietnam War.

Incumbent councilman Frank Pacelli refused to answer the latter question, claiming "it has no place in local politics . . . I have my own opinion and I intend to keep it to myself."

Association president Jim Cranna limited the candidates to five minutes for delivering their respective platforms; five minutes for rebuttals; and five minutes to answer questions submitted by the audience.

MacRobert Stewart, the first speaker of the session, slapped at the cost of purchasing the lots where the Civic Center is now located. He said that eight blocks away the lots "are considerably cheaper."

Stewart, an appointed member of the Planning Commission, also hit out at the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's "coming into our city and taking 108 homes off the tax rolls without insuring positive controls (over station design)."

Incumbent councilman Anthony (Tony) Giammona, newest member of the council, appointed almost two years ago to replace Albert Polonsky, pointed to the city's past accomplishments and said Daly City "was continually on the move."

Giammona praised the police and fire departments and said the development of Serramonte would broaden the city's tax base. He also noted that a vigorous General Plan, costing some $105,000, was now under way which will guide the growth of the city for the next two decades.

Ken Sullivan, asked that the term of office for councilmen be limited to two terms, claiming "four terms is much too long."

He said his interest in the one-way street dispute on Dorchester Drive prompted him to enter the race ' after talking to 2,000 people in the area."

Some onlookers attempted to pull the current Serramonte High School battle into the six-way talks, but Councilman

The Public Is Blamed For Riots

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The President's recently released Commission Report on Civil Disorders is the first time it has been admitted that America is a racist country, San Carlos police chief Joseph P. Kimble said last Thursday.

Kimble, a member of the historic Crime Commission, was guest speaker at a luncheon-meeting of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club when he visibly r·tled several members by flatly informing them, "If there are riots this summer, the blame can be placed on the public — you and I."

The veteran of more than 19 years in the law enforcement field said he was convinced "more than ever" that the United States has reached a point where they must make "the most difficult decision in their history."

Last year's riots which swept the nation left people shaking their heads in disbelief, and the police "even more disturbed," Kimble said.

"Police had been asked to accept the untenable position of dealing with emotion unemotionally, of addressing the passion of hatred impassionately and viewing the agony of their city's destruction with clinical detachment," Kimble explained.

The paramount question faced by both the Commission and public is why these disastrous riots occurred and how to best avoid a repetition of the events that threw several major cities into chaos last year.

Kimble said in the final analysis there are only two solutions to these problems:

"First we must eliminate the racist syndrone that tradition has woven into the fabric of our society.

"Secondly, we must actively involve the community with its police agencies and its problems."

The police and public must work together to avert crisis and must act "reasonably and

Fairmont Residents Ask Parks

Scores of Fairmont Subdivision residents packed the Pacifica Council Chambers last Wednesday, and urged city government officials to complete two parks in their neighborhood before undertaking the Hickey Greenbelt project.

The homeowners, led by Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, 485 Lynbrook Drive, presented a petition bearing the signatures of 700 residents of the area requesting "top priority" for work on a four-acre and a six-acre park in the subdivision.

Spokesmen for the residents said there is "no place for the children to play" in the subdivision, and "we have been waiting four years."

The council was scheduled to consider the Hickey Greenbelt project Wednesday but delayed action until the next regular meeting after noting the "apparent division among members of the homeowners association."

Ed Libonati, representing directors of the Fairmost Homeowners Association, urged the council to authorize completion of the greenbelt project.

"Funds for this project have been allocated for more than nine months," he said, "and I can assure you there are as many homeowners who favor granting top priority to this project as favor completing the parks first."

The homeowners association has contributed $5,500 for landscaping and irrigating the greenbelt area, and the city has put up $1,500.

The dissident association members maintain this money would be better spent on the neighborhood parks, and the association's board of directors is on record as favoring completion of the greenbelt project first.

Libonati said the board of directors has set aside funds in this year's budget for prelimi-

D.C. CLERK HEADS BAY AREA ASSN.

Daly City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf was elected president of the nine-county, 81-city Bay Area City Clerk's Association last week during a meeting at Castlewood in Livermore.

Mrs. Ohlendorf is a charter member of the Association which was formed in 1960 to increase efficiency of City Clerk operations.

The Association also sponsors effective legislation and encourages cooperation between city clerks and municipal officials for the betterment of city government.

Westborough Zone Plans Postponed

Final adoption of the long-awaited Westborough Planned Community zoning ordinance amendment was postponed again in South San Francisco Monday to allow time for incorporating last minute amendments into the formal plans.

City Attorney John Noonan recommended that the second reading and adoption be continued until the first meeting in April "because the city will be working with these documents for a long time, and it will be better if they are all included in a single package."

The principal work remaining to be done on the "package" involves transcribing certain amendments from the written form to graphic depiction on the planned community maps, Noonan said.

The Westborough zoning ordinance amendment has been on the council agenda for more than a year, and is intended to facilitate development of the 163-acre West Park Three unit of the planned community.

Expert Baffled

600-Foot Section Of Westborough Blvd. Is Closed

BY DON GRIERSON

A 600-foot stretch of Westborough Boulevard in South San Francisco has been closed to eastbound traffic, following an overnight deterioration which resulted from a mysterious "rippling" process which is baffling engineers.

City Manager Eugene Aiello and Public Works Director Louis Goss reported Monday the section of roadway between Galway Place and Callan Boulevard appears to be "floating" on water which has seeped into base material beneath the asphalt.

"It literally happened overnight," according to Aiello, who lives in the area and traverses the road daily.

"Saturday afternoon, I noticed some small ripples in the road. Sunday morning it was considerably worse, and by Sunday night, the eastbound lane was impassable," he said.

Barricades have been placed at the western entrance to the deteriorating section, and local traffic has been rerouted over side streets.

However, it is impossible for commuters from Pacifica to utilize the route to travel from Skyline Boulevard to Junipero Serra, according to Aiello.

Goss said he has never witnessed "anything like this in all my career. Neither I nor the soils engineers we have called in as consultants have any definite idea, as yet, what the trouble might be."

He said the six-to-eight-inches of base material beneath the surfacing is completely saturated, and the thousands of small rock particles which compose the base "are acting like ball bearings upon each other."

The chief mystery revolves around the source of the water, Goss said.

"We have analyzed the water, and it is definitely not from a broken sewer line," he said.

"We have also checked with the water company about possible broken mains, but their pressure readings indicate there are none."

One possibility under consideration is the theory that a hidden spring beneath the roadway has "broken through" and saturated the base material, Goss said.

In any event, the entire section of road will have to be torn up, and the process of replacing it will be "very expensive," according to the engineer.

The road is owned by Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., according to Goss, and has never been dedicated to the city.

It was constructed about six

$1.8 Million Freeway Unit Bids Called

The State Division of Highways has called for bids on construction of an $1.8 million, eight-lane section of the Cabrillo Freeway between Eastmoor Avenue and St. Francis Boulevard in Daly City.

The roadway was graded some three years ago and the latest bidding will include construction of two interchanges (at Southgate and Clarinada Avenues); signal lights at St. Francis and Skyline; surfacing; lighting and other roadway improvements.

Upon completion, less than one mile of roadway remains to be built—between the end of St. Francis Boulevard and Route One (Skyline Boulevard).

Cost of this one-mile stretch, which will include a major interchange at Skyline Boulevard, is approximately $3.5 million, according to Daly City engineer Art Reschke.

Slide Bypass Action Urged

A speed-up in planning for the Cabrillo Highway by-pass of treacherous Devil's Slide was urged last week by County Supervisor Jean Fassler.

Mrs. Fassler told the board that the shoulder of the highway continues to erode away and said she fears that it will get so bad that the highway will have to be closed. If that happens, she said, residents of the central coast area could have only one way to get to the nearest hospital, Mary's Help in Daly City — via Half Moon Bay Road and Skyline Boulevard, a much longer route.

She called maintenance costs of the present highway "exorbitant" and suggested thot the by-pass would help pay for itself through lower costs. She asked that cost figures be prepared for presentation at the next meeting of the Greater Highways Committee on March 28.

Mrs. Fassler said she realized that the by-pass will not be built for some time.

"But that is an extremely dangerous and hazardous area," she told the board, "and we ought to try to urge the Division of Highways to step this up as much as possible."

County Engineer Don S. Wilson pointed out that the state has established a routing for a freeway to be built in the upland away from the ocean, connecting with the present highway at points just south of Pacifica and near the Half Moon Bay Airport.

Rezoning Delay

Coast Recreation Concerns Mayor

Pacifica councilmen delayed a decision on a proposal to rezone 154 acres of the "Saddle Town" area from commercial recreation to residential use last week, after Mayor Grace McCarthy expressed concern over the city's "dwindling commercial recreation facilities."

The Saddle Town area, also known as Frontierland, is the site of the Coastside Corral stables and riding trails, and the owners, Challenge Developments, Inc., are seeking the zoning reclassification in order to develop a new subdivision, Park Pacifica Two.

The proposed zoning changes, approved last month by the city's planning commission, would leave about 70 acres in the commercial recreation category, and the developers have presented plans for a new barn, stables and other facilities to replace the existing Coastside Corral.

However, the new facilities

Modular Scheduling

Added Teacher, Student Responsibilities Are Cited

By WILL E. THOMAS

Computerized modular-flexible scheduling, to be initiated at Oceana High School in the Jefferson High School District next year and at Serramonte when it opens, will give both teachers and students increased responsibilities.

Members of Oceana's administrative staff gave district trustees a progress report on the concept Monday night.

The meeting at Oceana was a special study session, set in an atmosphere far more relaxed than trustees have enjoyed for weeks—the strong, vocal, anti-boundary - and - Serramonte forces being absent.

In leaving the standard scheduling concept, Oceana teachers and students will get on the campus a half-hour earlier next year.

The school day will be divided into 21 20-minute "modules," with different courses taking up a different number of modules and meeting in varied sized groups.

A prime feature of the concept is the "independent study" period, with students having four or five modules of so-called "free time" daily.

With the stress on independent study, the student must decide to what use to put the time — whether to actually study, do research, make ar-

Six Candidates Face 2 Hours of Questions

Giammona informed them this was a matter for the Jefferson High School Board of Trustees and the council had no power to intervene in such school matters.

Mrs. Cathy Smallwood noted "what we need is more than a Hillside Improvement Club . . . we need a Daly City improvement club . . . and you can start by electing me . . ."

She said BARTD will help in transporting persons in Daly City, "but it is not the answer." And Mrs. Smallwood, after labeling the present buses in the city as circa 1932, promised to conduct an investigation of the transportation system here.

Mrs. Smallwood said a Youth Council should be formed "to help bring young people into dialogue with adults."

The controversial residency requirement for city employees came under fire from Lou Pappan who said "I'm more concerned with quality and quantity of our city employes — not where they live."

Pappan said he would "change the political climate" in the city and would open lines of communications with the people if elected.

"A lack of this communications is the Hillside and Market Street improvements. Why hasn't something been done to improve this area?" he asked. Another area which came under fire from the candidates was street lighting in the Southern Hills area.

In answer to some of the questions asked, Councilman Pacelli defended the city's past decisions, and said the new Serramonte Shopping Center alone would bring in some $500,000 in sales tax revenues "which can be used to lower the rate."

He pointed to the city's water system which will soon boast an 11-million gallon reservoir which will double the city's water reserve capacity.

Pacelli admitted the city had "a bad transportation system" and said the administration had run into several stumbling blocks in attempts to improve the system.

"It's a big problem — not a simple one" Pacelli said.

Regarding the top of Mission Street business district, Pacelli said "This area needs major surgery — not more off street parking. This is part of the General Plan."

years ago, before the area was annexed, and the project was inspected and approved by county engineers.

Goss said there is "no way to determine" how long the road will be closed.

"If it was a city project, we could complete the job in about a week," he said. "But under the circumstances, responsibility for repairing the road must first be determined."

"It is definitely not the city's responsibility," he added.

Aiello said several areas of the road are covered with three-inch-high "ripples" which "move about from place to place," and the asphalt is beginning to crack.

effectively if crisis overtakes us," he said.

The old-time cop is out, "or on the way out," and a different breed of law enforcement officer is taking his place, Kimble pointed out.

"This has to be . . . in the 'old days' when I joined the force in South San Francisco, we just knocked 'em and locked 'em up, but those days are gone. Nowadays, we need a highly trained and better educated officer to cope with our problems," he said.

This "change" is also responsible for a major share of current civil disorders, according to Kimble.

Change due to population increase and movement of people and change due to the effects of a developing science and technology on our daily lives is responsible, Kimble explained.

He said the plight of the Negroes was the underlying factor which is causing the unrest, thus the riots.

In a nation of over 200 million persons, 80 per cent of the population urbanized (moved into communities of 50,000 or more) last year; only one in five lives 50 miles from where he was born; over two million Negroes left the south in the past decade — a migration that made Moses' march from Egypt look infinitesimal by comparison.

"The heart of the matter," Kimble said "is that we have thousands of angry, frustrated Americans who know and feel hatred. No longer do people accept being poor. They look around them and see others with money and they want a piece of the action."

He said the U.S. unemployment rate is four per cent (seven per cent among Negroes and as high as 65 per cent in minority ghetto areas); Negro mortality rates are three times as high as for whites; and the life expectancy of Negroes is seven years less than for Whites.

"Failure to prevent unrest this year will polarize the nation in a racial conflict, but police success will give the country time to get through the crisis and accomplish positive changes," Kimble said.

He outlined a six-point program for preventing the unrest, including: better police-community relations program ("and not just a lot of talk"); police and city officials must do more than rely on so-called "intelligence reports," and offer quality law enforcement for all.

In closing, Kimble said "Riots can be prevented, but if prevention fails due to conditions beyond the control of police, they can be controlled with planning co-ordination and flexible response."

Fairmont Residents Ask Parks

nary development of the Fairmont Parks.

"This appears to be an internal dispute among members of the homeowners association," Councilman Marland Minshew said, "and I personally feel they should resolve their differences, then present a list of their priorites to the city."

City Manager C. W. Masonheimer reported a survey taken by his staff indicates the Hickey Greenbelt area could be maintained with the city's present gardening crew, "since projects of this type require relatively little attention once the trees are planted."

In order to "reassure these petitioners," the council adopted a resolution reaffirming the city's agreement to maintain the Fairmont parks when they are developed.

During the two-hour discussion on the Fairmont parks development, a resident of Vallemar, Pat Hagerty, told the council the park in his neighborhood should be given priority over both the greenbelt project and the Fairmont parks.

"First things should come first," Hagerty said. "We have had the park in Vallemar for nine years, and the city has not spent a dime to improve it."

"If there are any funds for park development, they should at least be divided between the projects," he said.

The council has been reviewing the entire "park situation" in the city within the past two weeks in order to determine what improvements are possible in light of the present budget, Mayor Grace McCarthy said.

The winner of the pageant will compete in the Fiesta Dream Girl Pageant and the Miss San Mateo event.

rangements for special laboratory work—or "goof off."

Administrators pointed out that learning during the independent study sessions might not be purely academic, but will be learning, since students usually talk of their courses and world and current events.

Modular scheduling places the burden — at least in the beginning — squarely on the student's shoulders when he is not actually in the classroom. He will be out of the room more under this concept.

The "consequences of his decision" will be shown the student early in the school term, trustees were told.

If the student has shown himself unable to use his independent study period wisely, more controls will be instituted.

The student's schedule will be tightened up.

In time, when weaknesses in subjects are discovered, some of the independent study modules will be utilized for additional, individualized instruction.

The school's reading specialist has not been given a definite schedule. Instead, students weak in this area will be assigned to her during independent study modules.

Other teachers — their schedules also will have "holes," must like the student's independent study periods—can spend time with individual students who have problems.

The concept — which is six years old in the U.S. and rapidly gaining support throughout the country — places prime responsibility on the teacher.

At Oceana, the teachers chose to adopt the new system.

Teachers, for the first time, told administration how they want classes taught, and for how many modules instruction should take.

Dr. Robert Watt, Oceana principal, noted that teachers will have gained a professional standing — particularly if trustees given them the four paraprofessionals requested to relieve teachers of menial resources center and clerking functions.

The administration, Dr Watt said, at Oceana will be supporting the teachers.

The teachers, he emphasized, will share in the failures as well as the successes.

Board Chairman Raymond Milton, a teacher in the San Francisco school system, called the modular-flexible concept as the "closest thing to indvidualized instruction."

Homes Freeze Is Suggested

Should Daly City stop construction of new homes and apartments in an effort to discourage more persons from moving into the city—at least until a new high school is built?

This was the bombshell proposal of council candidate Lou Pappan at Monday night's "meet the candidate" at the Colma K-6 School, sponsored by the Hillside Homeowners' Association.

Pappan said, "We should take a holiday on building in Daly City. Our high schools are overcrowded, but the city is still giving out building permits, thus contributing to this overcrowding."

Incumbent Councilman Frank Pacelli said the council has no power to dictate requiements to the school board and noted "perhaps we should all be running for the school board . . ."

Legal Aid To Poor May Be Expanded

An expanded legal aid program to provide increased services to the poor in the Daly City and Coastside areas was proposed last week to the County Human Resources Commission.

Simon Rosenthal, director of the federally funded legal services program in the county, told the commission that the budget proposed for 1968-69 fiscal year would also provide for continued staff work in the field of "community education, preventative law and law reform."

The proposed budget, up 28 per cent from the present fiscal year, is $316,584, of which $259,720 would be federal Office of Economic Opportunity money and the remainder would come from local sources. The commission took the proposal under study.

The budget calls for the addition of two junior attorneys, to be hired at $750 a month. One would work out of the Daly City office and would be in a position to provide more extensive service to the coastal area. Rosenthal pointed out that the one attorney assigned to the Daly City office now spends one day a week in Pacifica but that no service is provided south of Pacifica.

"The addition of this attorney," Rosenthal said, "would allow for parttime service in such communities as Half Moon Bay and Pacifica and the remainder of his time would be utilized to assist the one lawyer in Daly City."

The second junior attorney would be assigned to the East Palo Alto office, making a three-man staff there.

The staff additions, Rosenthal said, would permit senior attorneys to spend more time on special projects required by the OEC.

These include such things as school programs on preventative law, delineation of an effective program for the "own recognizance" release of suspects in criminal cases who cannot afford bail, preparation of model ordinances restricting the activities of door-to-door salesmen and certain other business enterprises in poverty areas, and an effort to change the policy of some employers of firing workers whose wages have been garnished because of debt.

Rosenthal said that although the legal aid staff is acquiring a backlog on its routine work, the OEO requires that the special work be done in addition.

would be smaller, and would include less area for riding trails and show rings.

Charles Trifeletti, a representative of the developers, said his company intends to eliminate the large horse show programs which have been presented at the site in the past "because the public has not demonstrated sufficient interest to warrant continuing this type activity."

Also, the new facilities would be smaller, and would include less area for riding trails and show rings.

Also, the new facilities will house fewer horses, according to the developers.

The present stables have a capacity of 120 animals, and the new facilities will house approximately 100.

When first developed, the corral area contained 500 acres of "commercial recreation" area, Mayor McCarthy said.

"It has already been reduced to 200, and now even that will be reduced by more than half."

About 200 homes will be constructed at the location, which is adjacent to two other completed subdivisions.

sler suggested that a check be made to see if West Bay's financial study could be dovetailed with any work the county government had in mind.

Lilly reported this week that Stone and Youngberg is still not interested in bidding and that County Manager E. R. Stallings recommended against county participation in the study. The general manager again recommended that Little Associates be awarded the contract.

Julius Bertrand, an official of an unsuccessful bidder, Fry Consultants of San Francisco, asserted, however, that the scope of the work to be done had been reduced in the Little proposal and charged that his firm had been "treated unfairly."

The board then instructed Lilly to draw up precise specifications for the work to be done and ask the five companies that submitted bids to make new proposals.

The bulk of the work to be done by the financial consultant will be to explore possible sources of funds for construction and operation of a mass transit system in San Mateo County. A team of engineers is drawing up alternative master plans, from which the board is scheduled to make a selection this fall. The financial data will help the directors make the decision. The plan selected by the board is scheduled to be submitted to the voters in the spring of 1969.

Becker Won't Run Against Judge Rouse

Municipal Judge Charles Becker of South San Francisco has announced that he will not be a candidate for judge of the Superior Court after all.

The decision not to get in the race means that Superior Judge Allison M. Rouse, who was appointed recently by Governor Reagan and has had less than a month on the job, will be unopposed.

Becker was the only one to file a notice of intention to run against Rouse.

Another recent appointee, Superior Judge Conrad B. Reisch, faces opposition, however. John McKenna, a San Mateo lawyer, has paid filing fees to run against Reisch.

Becker issued this statement to the press today:

"It has been my special privilege during the past ten years to serve as Judge of the Municipal Court, and I now will be able to devote my undivided attention to making preparations necessary for the opening and administration of a new Municipal Court in Daly City.

"The spontaneous reaction to my candidacy from the people of San Mateo County, from members of the Bar, heads of law enforcement agencies, leaders of labor and of industry, clergy, and education was most gratifying and reassuring to me; and the many voluntary offers of personal support and financial contribution to the campaign are most certainly appreciated. All financial contributions to the campaign are being immediately returned . . ."

Youth's Freedom Is Short-Lived

A 17-year-old Fresno youth jumped barefoot through a second-floor window at the Pacifica Police Station Friday, and managed to elude a police dragnet for five hours before being recaptured.

Police arrested Rodney Dean Nicholls in a stolen car following what was described as "a long, hard highspeed chase" through city streets shortly before 11 a.m. Friday.

The youth was captured with the aid of sheriff's deputies and police dogs at the end of Fassler Avenue and taken to police headquarters.

While police were preparing to book him to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center, the suspect leaped through the window and ran off—leaving his shoes behind.

An all-points alert went out for Nicholls and he was seen in the Pacific Manor area of Pacifica—less than a mile from the police station—at 4 p.m.

Police closed in and recaptured the youth. He was charged with auto theft and escape.

Correction Of Dyer Story

On Page 3 of The Post edition of March 6, 1968, under the head "DYER CASE IS CLOSED," The Post reported that former police chief Lillard Dyer of Brisbane had resigned and pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges in connection with allegations that he had pocketed money paid by citizens for accident reports and by policemen for shoulder patches.

Mr. Thomas L. Bocci, attorney for Mr. Dyer in this matter, has requested a correction of the story and has called to our attention that Mr. Dyer did not plead guilty to misdemeanor charges but was acquitted of such charges and only admitted to an accusation which was a civil proceeding under the Government code.

As requested by Mr. Bocci, we are herewith correcting the Post article of March 6, 1968 to state that Mr. Dyer was acquitted of all criminal charges but did admit to an accusation in a civil proceeding under the Government code.

We regret any embarrassment which may have been caused either to Mr. Dyer or to his attorney, Mr. Thomas L. Bocci, in this matter.

4 Hurt In Crash

Four persons were injured in Pacifica Thursday afternoon when a young mother lost control of her car and truck a parked dairy truck at the intersection of Francisco Avenue and Lakeside Boulevard.

Mrs. Rita Sue Baushey and her two small children, Kimberly 3, and Lawrence, one month, and the milk truck driver, Leo McLaughlin of Foster City, were taken to Mary's Help Hospital by Mercy Ambulance about 2:15 p.m.

The older child was admitted for treatment of a leg fracture, and the younger was held for observation, hospital spokesmen said. McLaughlin and Mrs. Baushey were treated for cuts and bruises and later released.

Police said the woman apparently lost control of her car while attempting to adjust one of the children in his seat.

McLaughlin was standing in the truck when the automobile crashed into the rear of his vehicle, and he was knocked to the floor, police said.

School Clean-Up Drive

A group of Pedro Valley residents in Pacifica have decided to "take the situation into their own hands" and clean up the grounds at the neighborhood elementary school.

A letter to the city council from the parents group, known as the Pedro Elementary School Grounds Improvement Committee, requests city support in planning landscaping projects at the school, but states the residents are prepared to provide both "manpower and money" to do the job themselves.

"The school grounds here are a disgrace to the community and a hazard ot the children," the letter states, "and Laguna Salada School District officials have informed us it will be at least five years before they have funds to improve the situation."

"The school children are suffering cuts and bruises from the rough terrain, and rocks and bottles are strewn all over the grounds," the parents said.

Only one-half of the school grounds have been landscaped.

The organization is currently in the process of raising funds for the project.

Richard L. Passafiume, a candidate in the upcoming council election, volunteered to donate the necessary irrigation pipe for the project at Wednesday night's council meeting.

DC Chamber to Assist Fledgling Grid Team

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce moved to help the fledgling city "Pop Warner" football team last week with a donation of $500 to be used for new equipment.

The Chamber's board of directors unanimously voted to sponsor the 45-member team on a "one-shot" basis after receiving a plea for financial aid from the newly-organized team—first for the city.

Director Edward Morgan made the motion to donate the sum during the directors' meeting last Thursday.

In other action, director Vince Murphy was named to head a committee aimed at studying a statewide "Outstanding Civic Organization" award program sponsored by Governor Reagan.

Jack Kendree, chairman of the Chamber's "Signs Committee," said he had found a site for a sign which will display the city's civic organizations "and we are now looking for a design for the board." The proposed site is on Citrus Avenue, Kendree revealed.

Both Kendree and Joe Rohl have been searching for a suitable site for the signboard for the past seven years.

Bank of America manager and board director Elmer Venturini informed the directors his bank had a complete program (movies, pamphlets and lectures) regarding bad checks and bogus money and that the program was available, without charge, to groups of 25 persons (merchants) or more.

—P. Evert Terminello, president of the First National Bank in Daly City, was named vice-president of the Chamber replacing Ray Forcina who moved from the city recently.

Terminello's term of office expires in 1970.

—A perpetual sports trophy between Jefferson and Westmoor High schools will be displayed at Jefferson High School for six months before being shifted to Westmoor.

Which school would get the giant sports trophy for display was decided during the Board's meeting when high school superintendent (and director) Morgan flipped a coin and Jefferson student Kato Stewart won the toss, beating out Westmoor student Don Wieden.

A designated panel of judges, representing both schools, will decide which school receives the trophy for the year. The school having the trophy for three consecutive years will keep it.

To date, no school has been selected for 1967.

Whichever school is determined to have an outstanding athletic program will be presented the trophy.

NEW ATHLETIC TROPHY—The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an Outstanding Athletic Trophy to be awarded to the high local high school winning the most points during the year. The school selected for the honor will be decided by a panel of judges from the Chamber, Westmoor and Jefferson high schools. On hand to accept the new trophy from the Chamber last week were (left to right) D.C. councilman Anthony Giammona (Athletic director at Westmoor); Chamber president Don Monson; Westmoor student Don Wieden; JUHSD superintendent Edward Morgan and Jefferson student Kato Stewart. Until the trophy is awarded to one of the schools (during school year 1968-69) it will be on display for six months first at Jefferson and then at Westmoor. (Post Photo)

Family Ed Talk Slated

Parents of school children throughout Daly City are invited to Abraham Lincoln School, Thursday at 3:30 p.m., to meet and hear Dr. and Mrs. David B. Treat, family education consultants who will be presenting a lesson on "How To Teach Children About Human Reproduction."

The Treats conduct discussion groups for married couples and parent groups. Schools and churches of all faiths use their talents in teaching about reproduction and sex education.

Miracle Coating Eliminates House Painting

American United Chemical Company has developed a remarkable product for exterior walls that virtually eliminates outside painting for many years to come and is factory guaranteed for 15 years. This product called GUARD-COTE, combines the long-lasting properties of fiberglass, asbestos, mica and perlite to make a wall surface that resists all climate extremes.

Throughout the Country

School boards have found textured coatings so economical and lasting over the past several years that they are now specifying this type of material for school buildings.

Many thousands of textured coating applications have been made on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, and these buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The United States Government and large corporation, such as Shell Oil Company, Pacific Telephone Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are using textured coatings. This remarkable exterior surfacing provides waterproofing, insulation, and beauty, far outlasting any ordinary paint.

GUARD-COTE comes in 12 beautiful decorator colors—and does not change the structural lines of the building. Actually it adds beauty to any home or structure and increases its value.

Water-proofs, Insulates, Fire Retardent

GUARD-COTE has the additional advantages of waterproofing and through the use of Silicones, a modern day scientific advance, a water repellent "blanket" envelops the entire building so that no moisture can penetrate and damage the interior of the home. Through the use of fiberglass and perlite, highly efficient insulating material, the building becomes cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

Factory Guaranteed

Every GUARD-COTE job is registered and factory guaranteed for 15 full years material replacement against chipping, flaking or peeling. It fuses itself to the wall surface to a thickness 15 to 20 times that of normal paint.

No Obligation

Applications of GUARD-COTE are being made in this area by MORSE BROTHERS, exclusive applicators of this remarkable product for Northern California. Free information on how easily you may have GUARD-COTE applied at low bank terms with no down payment may be obtained by calling collect PLaza 6-1341 (24-hour service) or by mailing coupon below.

Icebox Freeze For Duo

Two North County men got a brief chill Wednesday when thier San Francisco grocery was robbed and they were locked inside the walk-in refrigerator.

Fortunately for Peter Busalucchi, 31, 536 Skyline Boulevard, Daly City, and Ray Baranti, 48, 360 Avalon Drive, South San Francisco, there was an inside latch that the robbers did not notice.

Busalucchi and Baranti told police two gunmen had robbed them of approximately $3,000, at their Arguello Supermarket, 782 Arguello Boulevard.

The thieves appeared inside the store as Baranti and Busalucchi opened for business at 9 a.m. They pointed .45-calibre automatic pistols at the grocers, ordered Baranti to lie on the floor and Busalucchi to open the safe.

After the gunmen cleaned out the safe, they locked the two owners in the refrigerator, and escaped.

Police said the gunmen had apparently broken into the store during the night, and had waited for someone to appear. A broken skylight supported this theory, they said.

Dance Class Set in S.S.F.

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department is offering Adult Social Dance Classes for beginning and intermediate couples starting Wednesday evening, March 20.

The beginners class will be from 7:30-8:30 p.m. and the intermediates class will be from 8:45-9:45 p.m. Both classes will be five-week sessions at Orange Memorial Park Recreation Center on March 20, 27, April 3, 10, 17. The fee for the five-week series is $7 per couple.

No Plot For Vet Who Was GG Speaker

There apparently is no grave site at Golden Gate National Cemetery for the man who presided over ceremonies dedicating the facilities in 1941.

Officials at the cemetery and a San Bruno Funeral Home spokesman said that the family of Joseph J. Madden, the World War I veteran who officially opened the cemetery, has been unsuccessful thus far in attempts to obtain special permission to place his remains in the cemetery. Madden, who died Tuesday at the age of 79, was the commander of the Twenty-sixth American Legion District at the time the cemetery was opened and was called upon to preside at the dedication. The cemetery is now used exclusively for Vietnam casualties or the wives of those already interred.

Fremmorsdorf to Talk to Guild

Mrs. Fred Mortara, president of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild? has announced that Friday's luncheon meeting will feature the comments of Lee Fremmorsdorf, superintendent of San Mateo Juvenile Hall.

According to Mrs. Melvin Gianola, Friday's conclave will begin at 11 a.m. with a workshop for members desiring to assist in the preparation of holiday tray favors and Pinkie puppets. The craft work will be done in the solarium preceeding the 1 p.m. luncheon.

SUPERBLY PREPARED roast beef will be the "piece de resistance" at a dinner being planned by the Perpetual Help Mothers Club for March 26.

According to Mrs. Fernando Pacheco, the repast was selected as the most delightful means of raising extra money for the forthcoming fashion show.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the school hall, 80 Wellington Avenue, next Tuesday and tickets are already being sold by members of the fashion show committee. The evening will include a social time with games to follow the dinner. The cost of the dinner will be $1.50 a person.

DALY CITY and North Peninsula members of the San Francisco unit of the auxiliary for the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital are reserving March 28 for a behind the scenes look at the local theatre and a performance of Inside Act by the American Conservatory Theatre.

The day will include the performance as well as an afternoon tour and wine tasting at the Geary Theatre. The tickets are being sold for $5 a person, with proceeds slated for the Hospital, according to Mrs. Samuel D. Sayad.

For more information or reservations call 664-9250.

MEMBERS OF the executive board of the Art Guild of Pacifica will be meeting on Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Henry Ewald to discuss the anal Pacifica Festival of Arts, traditionally the important Mother's Day event in the coastside city.

Mrs. Jeri Allyne and Mrs. Lucille Sutherlin are the chairman of upcoming event.

FRIDAY WAS an eventful and colorful day for several representatives of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home!

Mrs. Murray H. Freedman was the brave colleen who handled the circle's entry in the annual KABL radio station Snake race staged in the Crown Zellerbach Plaza.

Mrs. Evert Terminello designed a uniquely attractive snake poster and Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., Mrs. Jerry Stringer and Mrs. John Wuerthner donned especially-designed green shifts and assessories to provide a rooting section for the circle's squirmy entry but, all the efforts the Daly City lasses failed to invoke the legendary "luck of the Irish."

Undoubtedly more successful will be the next circle undertaking the fifth annual fashion show and luncheon, Spring Serenade, on March 28 in the Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae.

Mrs. Philip Glebow and Mrs. Frank Ingalls, the co-chairmen of the hostesses committee have appointed Mrs. Frank Lawson, Mrs. Vincent Murphy, Mrs. Terminello, Mrs. Joe Rohl, Mrs. William Kennaugh, Mrs. Carl Jensen, Mrs. Bernard Lycette, Mrs. Clement Flershinger, Mrs. Arthur Coleman and Mrs. Frank Terranova to be the official hostesses for the afternoon.

Reservations are available from Mrs. Frank Greenwood or Mrs. William George, and guests will be awarded many lovely prizes including a flight for two to Los Angeles and four pieces of luggage, contributed by the Air California line, two watches from Henry Doelger, an original oil painting being donated by Mrs. Michael Orlich, an orchid plant from the Rod McLellan Orchids.

THEODORE WHITE'S book, the Making of The President 1960 and the 1964 edition, will be reviewed in light of the coming elections for friends of the Library on March 28.

Mrs. William Roay is program chairman. Mrs. William Casburn will be the hostess, according to Mrs. Alvin Richter.

Members of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary will sponsor the Champagne premiere of the Secret World of Harry Frigg April 3, in the Alexandria Theater in San Francisco, according to Mrs. Daniel Young, president of the unit.

Mrs. Robert Kulvin is the chairman of the benefit and she and her committee are arranging a number of surprises for those attending.

Daly City will be well represented when the Riordan High School holds its annual Spring Festival!

For the Second Consecutive year Westlake's Albert Bucci is the general chairman of the event, slated to be held April 27 and 28 in the Riordan High School building, 175 Phelan Avenue in San Francisco.

Springy, Spring-Type Pink Icebox Cake

Good morning, good cooks.

Do you know that today is the first day of spring, tra-la? When I was a girl (way back in the stone age, claims my daugher) we greeted spring with these memorable lines, "Spring has sprung, the grass has riz, I wonder where them boidies is?" And thought it was pretty darn funny, no accounting for tastes, eh?

My taste in poetry might be good, but you can depend on my taste in desserts, it's been carefully cultivated. Since "spring has sprung," let's talk about some desserts that are light and spring.

This first one comes from Mrs. Ceil Collin, 1674 32nd Avenue, San Francisco. It's a light frothy cake and the color is suitable for spring pink. Ceil calls this Beatrice's Pink Ice Box Cake, in honor of some other good cook who shared this recipe with her.

BEATRICE'S PINK ICE BOX CAKE

1 cup hot water
2 cup lemon juice
Grated rind of two lemons,
½ cup sugar
1 pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
1 can evaporated milk
1 small flat tin crushed pineapple, drained
1 lg. pkg. Nabisco wafers
½ pt. whipping cream

Dissolve the raspberry gelatine in the one cup hot water, add the one-fourth cup lemon juice, grated lemon rinds and the one-half cup sugar and mix well. Place in refrigerator and chill until evaporated milk into a freezer tray and let it chill until fine ice crystals begin to form around the edges. Remove from tray and whip. When the gelatin mixture starts to set, whip it until thick and frothy and combine it with the whipped milk and return to refrigerator to chill. At this time, whip the one-half pint whipping cream.

Crumble the vanilla wafers. (A nice non-messy way is to place them in a plastic bag and use a rolling pin. Or if you are fortunate enough to have a blender, use it.) Grease the bottom of a 10-inch spring form pan and put half the wafer-crumbs on the bottom of the pan, add one-half the gelatin mixture and then the rest of the crumbs, the layer of whipped cream, the well-drained crushed pineapple and top with the rest of the gelatine mixture.

Let this set overnight. If you wish you may frost the sides of the cake with an additional half-pint of whipped cream.

This dessert isn't going to do much for your figure, but it will do wonders for your reputation as a hostess.

THIS NEXT CAKE won a prize in the convenience mix catagory at Pillsbury. It's most impressive with the added attraction of a meringue frosting on a high angel food cake.

LEMON MERINGUE ANGEL CAKE

1 pkg. Angel Cake Mic
¼ cups water
1 teaspoon lemon extract
6 drops yellow food coloring
5 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
two thirds cup sugar
1-pkg. Lemon Sauce Mix

Heat oven to 350 degrees.

Prepare cake mix as directed on package adding the one teaspoon lemon extract and the six drops of food coloring to the one and one fourth cups water before adding to dry cake mix. Bake as directed.

In small mixer bowl, beat the six egg whites and one-half teaspoon cream of tartar at highest speed until foamy. Very slowly add the two-thirds cup sugar, beating meringue continuously until stiff peaks form. Place baked cake on oven-proof plate or cookie sheet. Frost cooled cake with meringue. Bake at 425 degrees for 4 to 5 minutes, until meringue is golden. Chill at least one hour before serving.

Mrs. Dolores Heayl who lives at 1570 33rd Avenue in San Francisco sent this ice box cake that is really quite easy to make and the result of your mixing-and-fixing will be an attractive, tasty treat.

STRAWBERRY MALLO RUSSE

1 cup waffer crumbs, either chocolate or vanilla
¼ cup butter
Wafers cut in half
1 3-Oz. pkg. strawberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 10-Oz. pkg. frozen strawberries
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 cups mini marshmallows

Combine the one cup wafers and one fourth cup butter to make a crust. Place in the bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan. Place the half wafers around the sides of the pan.

Dissolve the one package gelatine in the one cup boiling water, add the frozen strawberries, stirring to separate fruit. Allow mixture to thicken. Then fold in the whipped cream and marshmallows. Pour into crust and chill overnight. Serves 8 to 10.

GREEN IS VERY MUCH THE COLOR OF SPRING. So why not serve a light and fluffy green pie?

LIME COCONUT PIE

1 pkg. lime flavored gelatin
1½ cups hot water
Dash of salt
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ pt. whipping cream
1 cup shredded coconut, cut

Dissolve the one package gelatin in the 1½ cups hot water. Add the dash of salt and the two teaspoons lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then place in bowl of ice and water and whip until fluffy and thick like whipped cream.

Whip the one-half pint cream. Fold about one-half the whipped cream and one-half cup of the coconut into the whipped gelatin mixture. Pour into graham cracker crust and top with the remaining whipped cream and sprinkle with the remaining coconut. Chill.

GRAHAM CRACKER PIE SHELL

1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs
one third cup melted butter
1 tablespoons sugar

Combine the one and one-fourth cups crumbs with the one-third cup melted butter and the two tablespoons sugar. Press into 9-inch pie shell. Place in refrigerator to chill.

NORTH PENINSULA CIRCLE, Florence Crittenton Home members entered the KABL Snake Race to try to win $1,000 for their auxiliary, and to publicize their forthcoming fashion show and luncheon, "Spring Serenade" which will be held March 28 at the Thunderbolt Hotel. Their entry, "Cash," did not win. However, members (L. to R.) Mesdames John J. Wuerthner, Thomas Bocci, Jr. and Murray H. Freedman want the public to know that tickets are still available for the luncheon. (See Louanne Heath's Datebook.)

Inluence Of Various Groups On Education

The influence of various groups on education and how effective they are will be the topic for discussion March 25 at the San Bruno Public Library, when the San Bruno branch of the American Association of University Women gets together for their monthly general meeting.

The public is invited to attend the panel discussion which begins at 8:30, moderated by Dr. Meta Zahorsky, associate dean for the School of Education at San Francisco State, and chairman for the topic, "The Politics in Public Education," for the San Bruno AAUW.

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan will discuss specifically the role of the legislature in forming educational policy while the influence of pressure groups will be given personal evaluation by panel members Ray Milton, Jefferson High School District Board Member; Robert J. Lloyd, Brisbane Superintendent of Schools; and Frank Seebele, teacher at Mills High.

To give AAUW members background material for the meeting, a series of in-depth study groups have just been completed discussing James B. Conant's theories as expressed in "Shaping Educational Policy." Dr. Zahorsky, Mrs. Frank Seebode, Legislative Chairman, and Mrs. Urban Whitaker, Area Representative for Education, led the discussions.

Prospective AAUW members, women who have received their degree from an accredited four year college, are especially encouraged to attend.

The membership drive will begin April 1.

A 'Paint-in' For Teeners Planned

Students from Jefferson, Oceana, Terra Nova and Westmoor High Schools with brushes and buckets of paint, will stage Daly City's first "Paint In" starting Friday afternoon, continuing through Saturday, at Westlake Shopping Center.

The painting, featuring op, psychedelic and whimscial art, will be done on four brand new Opel Kadett automobiles provided by the "Paint In" sponsor, Adams Buick Inc. of Daly City.

Completition will allow the local and Pacifica art students to decorate an Opel Kadett to their own special tastes.

Larry J. Adams, president of Adams Buick, said the Westlake "Paint In" is part of a national contest being conducted by Buick Opel dealers throughout the country.

Winning high school team here will receive an on-the-spot award of $100, plus a chance at the national award of $5000 — $2,500 in cash and $2,500 in a scholarship to the high school. Each of the three runner-up schools will receive a $25.00 cash award.

After the paintings have been completed and winning school announced, the cars will remain on display at Westlake Shopping Center until Wednesday (March 27) at which time the winning entry will be moved to Adams Buick, Inc. showrooms on Mission Street for additional viewing.

DECORATING WITH FLORAL PATTERNS

Many parts of the home furnishing field have seen the increasing use of floral designs.

Whether you like floral patterns large or small, in vivid or subdued colors — they are in full bloom with the widest possible selection to help you add eternal spring to your home decor.

Aside from the color and beauty of floral designs in upholstery and floor coverings, they have very practical features: They don't show wear, soil or fading nearly as much as solid colors.

Generally, and there are exceptions, florals and solids are used for contrast, such as a flowered carpet with solid colors on sofas and chairs, and vice versa.

Not only mattress and box springs, but sheets and pillow cases may be had in such beautiful florals that they may be used without bedspreads.

If your floors and seating pieces are in flat colors, you can consider giving a room a beautiful look by using possibly floral throw pillows, lamp shades, wall paper, draperies or curtains, window shades or other floral accessories. The choice is limitless.

And, whether you want florals or solids, tweeds or stripes, you will always find our store the place to shop for the latest and nicest things.

Where Truax Might Be...

MARSHALL MAYER, deputy attorney general, commenting on the anniversary of the disappearance of Tom Truax, former ABAG staff member: "He might as well be off the face of this earth." Didja hear that FBI? Check with NASA just to be sure.

THE SHADOW KNOWS — That councilmen Ed Dennis and Frank Pacelli signed those filing papers for Assemblyman Leo Ryan the other day. Nothing unusual about that except fellow-councilman Micheal DeBernardi had hoped to run against Ryan (and still might be able to .....)

SURE AND IT'S PLAGIARISM — At last week's directors' meeting of the DC-Colma Chamber, Mayor Bud Lycett, in honoring St. Pat's Day, was asked NOT to sing an Irish song so he stole the words from "Ireland" and recited them, accent and all (Sure a little bit of heaven fell from out the blue one day etc., etc. . . .)

AND AT THE SAME MEET councilman (and Westmoor High athletic head) Tony Giammona had this comment when Jefferson High student Kato Stewart won a coin toss for possession of a new Outstanding Athletic Trophy away from Westmoor student Don Wieden last week: "It's the first time Jefferson ever beat Westmoor at anything." Nice try Tony, but we're from Missouri. . . .

HOW CUM DEPT — How cum they're paving Hillside Avenue this time of the (rainy) year? Couldn't the city wait until summer after the You-know-what is over?

GUEST AT BACCALA CLUB last week was movie star Dick Simmons (Sgt. Preston of the Yukon) who owned up to having been the person who kicked off Governor Reagan's gubernatorial campaign. Dick suffered a broken back not long after the campaign when the helicopter he was riding in crashed into the side of a mountain. Except for the gray hairs, Sgt. Preston (oops, I mean Dick) looks just like the Good Old Days — whataya mean you don't remember the Yukon Series. Whoya kidding?

THE SAN MATEAN, official student paper of the CSM, has a column in its March 15 edition written by James Barr, titled "Don't Go," with an overline "It Stinks," and complete with a photo of a burning draft card bearing the name: Stephen K. Smuin. The column urges young, draft age American youth to resist the Vietnam Thing by either (1) running away to Canada, or (2) refusing to be drafted and going to jail. Isn't it wonderful that a school paper can use its space to tell students (and we quote) "You're right if you go to jail and you're right if you go to Canada."

DALY CITY MAY BE on the verge of purchasing a snorkel truck similar to the one Pacifica bought for $68,000 to provide rescue protection for all those high-rise apartments down that way (our Rumor Department informs us). It can reach 85 feet (eight story building) and pluck people to safety.

In Daly City such a truck could be used right away for rescues at Mary's Help Hospital and ah . . . and ah . . . and THE COW PALACE (whew, had a hard time thinking of another tall structure).

Down Pacifica way the fire chief explained he can use the snorkel right now for plucking people off cliffs and stuff. The truck was ordered back when a few high-rises had been planned for the Coastside, but those plans fell through, thanks to the Tight Moola situation.

And while Daly City doesn't have a Devil's Slide, we're confident the staff can duplicate such a landscape without too much effort, thereby justifying the snorkel. Later, when the city boasts a complex of high-rise structures around the BARTD station and up in the Crocker Hills it would be nice to have a snorkel handy.

Of course it would likewise be nice to have manpower increased according. There have been persistent grumbles from local smoke eaters that often as not some fire trucks are not what one would call "fully manned." This has been denied (most adamantly) by the upper echelons of city government.

WILL HE OR WON'T HE — Pacifica councliman Harland Minshew is smiling whenever someone asks him if he will toss his hat into the County Supervisors' race against Jean Fassler. Rumors are building, but Minshew isn't saying . . . only smiling. It WOULD be nice if SOMEONE would enter besides the incumbents, just to make it interesting.

FLASHY FLASH — John McCloskey and Robert Miller HAVE NOT filed for the upcoming Assembly race against Ryan as of our deadline. Final day for filing is March 22 — Friday.

THE OUTSTANDING ARTICLE on Navy pilot-hero Commander Glenn E. Kollmann, killed last week when his plane crashed into the ocean while trying to make a landing on the carrier Enterprise off Vietnam (Times, March 13 and 14; today's Post) failed to mention brother Clay, assistant principal at Westmoor High. (Read Commander Kollman's story elsewhere on this page.)

Why D.C. Squadron Leader Led Sorties in Vietnam

By LT. JOHN G. GRIFFITH

NOTE: Lt. Griffith is a bombardier - navigator with Attack Squadorn 35 flying the A-6 Intruder. He is a trained architect and journalist. Shortly after joining the Navy, he was assigned as a A-6 in its designing stages before it was accepted for use by the Navy.

WITH ATTACK SQUADRON 35 ABOARD THE USS ENTERPRISE IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC — Seventeen combat fliers, who were nominated for a total of ten Silver Star Medals and 68 Distinguished Flying Crosses while flying over North Vietnam, are returning to the Gulf of Tonkin with two questions burning in their memory: "Why Vietnam?" and "Why you again?"

Sometimes the perplexity becomes even more personal to other servicemen who ask themselves, "Why me?"

The role of the Naval aviators and flight officers is unusual and undoubtedly often envied by others in combat. A Navy flier, at his request, will be relieved of flying duties. And, depending upon the circumstances, the decision will not endanger his career or promotional opportunity.

This freedom of choice to remove himself from the dangers of combat makes every Navy flier a volunteer. Each man is fighting and flying because he feels that he should — not because he is forced to do so.

So the questions, "Why Vietnam?" and "Why you?" take on a different significance to those in the Navy.

The attitude of Commander Glenn E. Kollmann is typical of that of many fliers.

Commander Glenn Kollmann grew up in San Mateo County graduating as Valedictorian of the Class of 1945 of Jefferson Union High School in Daly City. He later graduated from San Francisco State College and married the former Carmen Mary Munill of 454 Pennsylvania Avenue, San Francisco. CDR. Kollmann is one of seven children, all living in the San Francisco Bay area. His brother, John C. Kollmann, lives at 1150 Fernwood Drive in Millbrae. His sister, Miss Donna Kollmann, lives at 802 North Delaware in San Mateo.

The commander of the Black Panther squadron has been shocked by the "why you?" question asked by friends upon learning he was returning to combat.

They looked for their own indirect answers, he said, by inquiring into military pay, retirement and fringe benefits and the opportunity in civilian positions which require similar skills.

When this line of questioning was ultimately exhausted, CDR Kollman said, they were compelled eventually to ask the question that they had been wanting to ask all the time: "Well, if that's all true, why in hell do you stay in the Navy just to start your second 100 missions over North Vietnam?"

"The first few times I was asked that question," he said, "I was rather shocked because I considered the friends to be well informed with an appreciation of world affairs and national commitments. I also thought them to be individuals of normal moral development.

"It was such a frequent question, and apparently almost universal among civilians, that I am no longer shocked — just dumbfounded and disappointed.

"I'm dumbfounded by their ignorance and disappointed at the failure of the attempts to educate the American people to the world-wide purposes and methods of communism.

"The conversation usually ended in a philosophical discussion of morality," CDR Kollman said, "because I was unable to provide a better explanation of my willingness to remain in a combat bomber squadron." CDR Kollmann describes himself as a "pacifist by nature," but he never seeks an excuse to justify his presence in combat.

"My reasons are simple," he continued. "They are my moral obligation and commitment to our nation. I identify myself with the obligations of the United States to honor its commitments with foreign nations all over the world.

"To me, my duty here is as natural and as normal as accepting the responsibility of caring for my wife and children. It is my job, and I'm going to do it. I wouldn't ask someone else to do my job."

The other second tour fliers in CDR Kollman's squadron place more emphasis on the personal aspects of their presence in the combat zone.

"National commitments," Communist aggressions" and "political considerations" are phrases that have been mostly lost in the routine of daily combat missions. Missile sightings and flak concentration now have become common in the flier vocabulary.

To these men, most of whom have flown over 100 missions, the war is the immediate consideration. Bombs are dropped, missiles are fired, some aircraft are hit and others are lost.

Each day and each flight is a complete event within itself. Few of the men make detailed plans for the distant future. At least one of these men says that he does not expect to return from the war. There probably are more, but they do not admit it.

A study of combat statistics indicates that three crews will be lost — six of the 40 fliers in the squadron will be captured or killed. They know that the six will not always be "the other fellows," but that is something that is not talked about.

These Intruder fliers feel that the Americans are trained and taught to be winners. In this war, they know that they are winning and morale is good because of it.

HE DID DUTY TO THE END

NEWS of the death at sea of Cmdr. Kollman has shocked friends. The announcement of his death followed by only a day a story received by the Post that outlined his activities in Vietnam, aboard the U.S.S. Enterprise. A spokesman said the Pilot had crashed during a flight from the ship last week.

Irish Greetings To The Coastside

Pacifica received St. Patrick's Day greetings from Alderman Thomas Stafford, P.C., Lord Mayor of Dublin.

The ornately prepared proclamation was addressed to Pacifica mayor Grace McCarthy, and was flown to the coastal community via Irish International Airlines:

It read, in part:

"As Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland's capital city, it is an honour and a pleasure to send greeting to you and to the people of Pacifica on the feast of our national apostle, St. Patrick.

"Our strong feeling of involvement with the fortunes of your great country are today tempered by sympathy and understanding of the many complex problems you face at home and abroad. We earnestly pray that your strength and wisdom will prevail in the interests of the common heritage of Christianity that St. Patrick bequeathed to the Irish, and through them to so many of your citizens.

"The shamrock which you and so many citizens of Pacifica will wear on St. Patrick's Day is a symbol of the steadfast loyalty to those enduring principles shared by your people and mine."

Mayor Grace McCarthy read the proclamation, in full, at the Saturday pre-St. Patrick's Day open house held at Oceana High School, where she was the guest of honor.

MUNCHING TIP: If for some unlikely reason an area Girl Scout or Brownie hasn't been to your door with their variety of cookies, run out and find a wearer of the green (or brown). The goodies are yummily tasteful . . . and who ever heard of anything better than that?

SAFEWAY DRUG at Fairmont has a new manager. He's Hal Burrows, who has moved up from assistant manager of the Woodlake store, and replaces Lynn Londry.

Londry has been promoted by Safeway to manage a San Jose outlet.

Burrows, who lives in San Mateo, has been with Safeway Drug for three years. Prior to that, he was with Thrifty for six years.

THOSE OF YOU interested in investing might ponder the second session of an investment course at Westmoor Adult School, starting April 2. It will cover questions related to stocks, bonds, mutual funds and other applications, money interests and dividends. Instructor will be John Carberry of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. and if he can remember all those associates, he must be worth listening to.

"BUSINESS" item we've been trying for weeks to work in:

Ronald Dressler's promotion to assistant head of Timeplan lending department in Bank-American's Colma branch, succeeding Mervyn Marks, named manager of Pacifica B-A.

A Statement of Faith

One of the best statements of faith in our country was delivered at the University of North Carolina by John W. Gardner, former Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The account published in the January issue of the Reader's Digest quotes him thusly, "the Bible says, 'Thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness.' One feels occasionally that for us it is that kind of noonday."

"But it isn't."

"The truth is that our blessings are greater than ever before. Our troubles are no worse."

"They are different."

THEN HE LISTS some of our troubles and observes that they are easy to identify and together they contribute to an uneasiness that stems from the vastness of our society. Yet we are agreed that "we don't want an impersonal society in which everyone is anonymous, in which individuality is smothered by organization, in which rootlessness is the universal condition and irresponsibility the universal affliction."

"How," he asks, "are we to avoid these hazards?"

"One thing we are going to have to do is to restore a sense of community and participation at the local level, which is the only level that will have immediate meaning for large numbers of Americans."

Borrowing a phrase from our pioneer past, Secretary Gardner calls for "a barn raising spirit" which would make the American people adopt a greater concern for the vitality of state and local government and for vigorous local leadership both in and out of government. "All will have to pitch in."

Gardner believes the time has come for Americans to learn that "responsibility is the best of medicines. When people feel that important consequences — for themselves and others — hang on their acts, they are apt to act more wisely," and together.

Towards the end of his speech, the secretary warns that our problems are "grimly and irrevocably those of our generation and none can escape." They affect the quality of life for everyone in this land, the comfortable and the uncomfortable. Unless they are solved "it won't be a decent life for any of us until it is so for all of us.

'Yes' on Both Junior College Tax Measures

The special election in the San Mateo Junior College District next Tuesday, to provide needed funds for the completion of two already authorized additional colleges, to furnish them, and to supply operational funds for the whole district system, is markedly fair to the taxpayers.

The College District is already outstanding as one of the county's most economically sound and most economically operated educational institutions. It is not surprising, therefore, that the necessity for obtaining additional money to meet rising costs and enrollment has been met by the college's governing board with a funding program that shows respect for the pressures on those of us who pay the educational bills.

The program is in two parts, each dependent upon the other, and designed to qualify the district for some $1,135,300 in additional state and federal matching funds that are not directly chargeable against the local taxpayers.

One part of this dual program is a bond issue for $3.1 million dollars sprad across a 25-year redemption period. This money is to be specifically devoted to the two added colleges and will pay for construction costs.

The other part is a permissive tax increase of 12 cents in the ceiling rate — limited to three years. This money will be used to furnish the added colleges on an economical lease-purchase plan and to meet the increased operating costs as they apply to the entire, three-college system. The three-year increase in the ceiling will raise an estimated $6.2 millions.

Together, these interdependent tax measures represent an admirable marriage of both the bond issue and "pay as you go" methods of securing educational funds. They make for a more moderate initial cost, yet offer relief from high, long-range cost over a long period of years.

Both measures must have "Yes" votes because they are imperative to complete what the voters have already authorized and to protect the investments already made.

There is still another reason why voters in the central portion of the district, especially, should vote "Yes" on both measures. They should do this because the voters at the northern and southern ends of the district, at previous elections, have cheerfully voted to pay the costs for the main campus of the College of San Mateo. Now they are entitled to the reciprocal faith and trust of the central district voters for the new Skyline and Canada Colleges which will serve the north and south parts of the district.

Happily, the expense of both measures will be comparatively modest because the district is so very large and the cost is well-spread.

Vote "Yes" next Tuesday on both of the Junior College tax measures. They are fair and they are considerate of our pocketbooks.

Advertising Rejection

QUESTION: Does a publisher have to give his reasons when he rejects a certain piece of advertising?

ANSWER: No. The right of media to reject questionable ads and copy was reaffirmed in a recent decision of the Superior Court of California in a case involving the Whittier News and a real estate advertiser.

QUESTION: Are Hong Kong imports subject of import tax?

ANSWER: Many people are unaware that they must pay an import tax on purchases from Hong Kong. Important taxes on "bargain" clothing purchased from representatives of Hong Kong tailors may run as high as 42½ per cent depending upon the contents of the material. A $50 garment could cost the customer a total of $71.25 plus postage.

Try A Veal Scallopini In Special Dish

Here is a special main dish from PASADENA PREFERS to delight everyone who partakes. To our Veal Scallopini and fruit dessert add your favorite green salad, noodles (sprinkled with poppy seeds for a decorative touch) and you'll have a perfect menu!

VEAL SCALLOPINI

(Make this the day before)

2 lbs. veal steak, pounded thin, cut into 2 to 3 inch pieces
1 cup flour
4 tsp. paprika
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. ground pepper
½ lb. butter
2 cloves garlic, cut in half
1 can consomme
1 pint sour cream
1 tsp. dried sweet basil
1-8 tsp. dried rosemary
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. Accent
½ cup Burgundy wine
½ lb. mushrooms, slightly browned in butter

Melt butter in large frying pan with garlic. Shake veal pieces in bag with flour, paprika, salt and pepper. Brown thoroughly in butter and garlic. Remove garlic pieces and put veal in bottom of a casserole. Scrape bottom of frying pan, add remaining flour mixture, consomme, sour cream, spices, and wine. Stir together and add mushrooms. Pour over meat and refrigerate until next day. Reheat, covered, at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes.

2 Tbsp. brandy or sherry

Cut apricots and peach halves in two. Add cherries and lay in large baking dish. Add grated rinds and juices. Add brown sugar, mixing gently with fruit. Heat through thoroughly until sugar melts in 300-degrees oven. Add brandy. Serve hot or cold with accompainiment of sour cream. Serves 8-10.

Some Ideas For Buttery Oil Cookery

Having a party? Prepare a batch of cereal "Munch." Mix 6 cups of assorted dry cereals with ½ cup buttery flavor oil, 1 tablesp. Worestershire, and 1 teaspoon each garlic, onion and celery salts. Bake at 300 degrees F, 30 minutes, stirring several times.

For an easy oven-fried chicken, coat fryer pieces with new buttery flavor oil and place in shallow baking pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Bake at 350 degrees F about 1 hour or until tender. Baste several times.

Chicken fried in the new buttery flavor oil looks especially appetizing served cold as box lunch or picnic fare. This new flavored oil has a golden touch as well as adding buttery taste.

Pour a tablespoon or two of new buttery flavor oil into boiling salted water for cooking spaghetti. Enriches the flavor and keeps the spaghetti strands from sticking together.

Skillet-braised vegetables are a treat . . . and so quick. Prepare fresh vegetables such as broccoli, cauliflower, zucchini, asparagus, spinach, cabbage for cooking. Pour 2 tablespoons new buttery flavor oil into a heavy skillet that has a tight-fitting lid. Add vegetables and season them as desired. Cover pan and heat vegetables through, cooking until tender crips or just done. Shake skillet occasionally to keep vegetables from sticking.

A Memo On Frozen Meat

When cooking frozen steaks and chops, use a more moderate broiling temperature than for fresh cuts so the meat inside at the very center will have time to thaw and cook before the outside becomes too brown. More broiling time should, of course, be allowed than when cooking a fresh or thawed cut.

If frozen steaks or chops are to be breaded, do allow them to thaw, at least partially, so the coating will adhere to them more readily.

A Strawberry Nut Roll for 'Company'

When nut roll and frozen strawberries meet there's a happy collaboration.

Here's a few tips about the making. This recipe calls for grated nuts. To do the grating, use a small hand-operated rotary-cone device. Or grate the nuts in an electric blender.

We feel this Strawberry Nut Roll tastes best when it is served the day it is made. So bake the nut base in the morning and allow it to stand wrapped in a tea towel, as directed in the recipe. Then shortly before serving, add the Strawberry Filling and refrigerate.

Although we haven't listed them as recipe ingredients, you can garnish the roll with extra whipped cream and whole frozen berries defrosted.

STRAWBERRY NUT ROLL

Confectioners' sugar
6 eggs, separated
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups finely grated walnuts
1 teaspoon baking powder
Strawberry Filling — See Recipe below.

Grease and flour a jells roll pan about 15 by 1 inch. Rug confectioners' sugar into a clean tea towel.

In a large bowl beat the egg yolks and granulated sugar until thickened and lemon colored.

In another large bowl with a clean beater, beat the egg whites and salt until the whites hold stiff straight peaks when the beater is slowly withdrawn.

Into the egg yolk mixture fold the nuts, baking powder and egg whites. Spread batter evenly in the prepared pan.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until cake springs back when lightly touched — 20 to 25 minutes. With a spatula, loosen edges and turn out on prepared tea towel. Starting at 15-inch edge, roll cake with the towel; fold in ends of towel; place on wire rack; cool.

Shortly before serving time, prepare the Strawberry Filling. Unroll cake letting it rest on the towel. Spread filling down lengthwise center of cake. Loosely roll cake lengthwise around filling, overlapping edges slightly. Lift cake roll to serving platter, placing overlapped edge down. Chill until ready to serve. Sprinkle top with confectioners' sugar and if you like, garnish with spoonfuls of extra whipped cream and whole frozen strawberries defrosted. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

STRAWBERRY FILLING

2 packages (each 10 to 12 ounces) frozen sliced or halved strawberries, defrosted
½ pint heavy cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Thoroughly drain strawberries — reserve juice for later use in beverages or as a pudding sauce. Whip cream until it begins to thicken. Add confectioners' sugar and continue whipping until stiff. Fold in drained strawberries. Make up this filling just before using in Strawberry Nut Roll as directed.

NUT ROLL for company is filled with whipped cream and frozen strawberries.

Set A Party In Motion

Pineapple Fancy Franks set a party in motion. In saucepan combine ½ cup chile sauce, ½ cup currant jelly, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice and 1½ teaspoons prepared mustard. Add two 7-ounce packages cocktail franks and one drained 13½-ounce can pineapple chunks. Simmer together 15 minutes.

For a new flavor twist, bake Washington Rome Beauty apples in Tangerine juice.

FROM THE GRILL — Rib lamb chops with skewers of link sausage, orange sections, pineapple chunks and pepper.

Lamb Chop Grill That Is Different

Even though plain broiled lamb chops are immensely popular, it's fun on occasion to give them a different reatement.

What do we suggest? Try marinating them in a flavorsome blend along with link pork sausage, orange, pineapple and green pepper. Then, at serving time, the chops are broiled on one side while the rest of the food is put on skewers, kakob style. When the chops are turned, the skewers are added to the grill.

This combination is delightful to serve to a foursome with steamed rice — white, brown or wild — as the accompaniment. A cooked green vegetable and a salad can go along, too.

For the dessert choose one without fruit in it so the flavors of the main dish won't be repeated.

Rib Lamb Chops Plus

- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 2 tablespoons orange marmalade
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 4 rib lamb chops, 1-inch thick
- 8 small link pork sausages, par-boiled and halved crosswise
- Fresh membrane-free orange sections
- Fresh rind-free pineapple chunks
- Green pepper squares

In a large shallow container, stir together the orange juice, orange marmalade, salad oil, onion, salt, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Add lamb chops, sausage, orange, pineapple and green pepper and turn to coat with marinade. Cover tightly and refrigerate for three to four hours.

Remove chops from marinade and broil three to four inches from the source of heat for five to seven minutes. Meanwhile arrange sausage, orange, pineapple, and green pepper alternately on four long skewers. When chops are turned, place skewers on broiler rack. Turn and brush the food on the skewers with the leftover marinade. Broil chops and skewered food for five to seven minutes or until chops are as well done as you like and the skewered food is hot through. Makes four servings.

Milk Has Majority of The Nutrients

Milk has long been considered nature's most nearly perfect food, containing most of the essential nutrients for the body's good health. Nutrionists for the Dairy Council of California keep reminding us that for the very best of health for California's growing population . . . and they are referring not only to our growing-up youngsters but to the influx of people of all ages . . . an adequate amount of milk or its equivalent is vital in our daily diets.

Milk is our leading source of calcium, which is so important for strong bones and teeth. It also provides high quality protein for growth and repair of body tissue; riboflavin for clear skin; minerals and vitamins for growth and to keep the body functioning properly; fat and carbohydrate for energy.

Experts recommend that children drink or eat three to four 8-ounce glasses of milk daily; teenagers four or more glasses and adults two or more glasses.

Part or all of the milk for drinking may be fluid skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or reconstituted dry milk. Cheddar cheese, cottage cheese, cream cheese and ice cream are good ways to get your milk. Based on calcium content, a 1-inch cube of Cheddar-type cheese equals 2-3 cup milk; ½ cup cottage cheese equals 1-3 cup milk; 2 tablespoons cream cheese equals 1 tablespoon milk and ½ cup (4-ounces) ice cream is comparable to ¼ cup milk.

Tips For That Smoked Tongue Dish

Everything you need to know when you cook a smoked tongue.

Smoked Tongue
Red Cabbage Creamed Potatoes
Green Beans Fruit Bowl
Beverage

SMOKED TONGUE

- Smoked tongue (3½ to 4 pounds)
- 1 tablespoon mixed pickling spice (do not include whole pepper pod)
- 1 clove garlic, halved and slightly crushed
- Cold water

Remove all wrapping from tongue and place in a 5-quart saucepot with pickling spice, garlic and enough water barely to cover. Bring to a boil; simmer, turning midwa, until tongue feels quite soft when a fork is inserted and turned in its center — about 3 hours. Drain tongue; cool slightly. Cut off roots — fatty meat and gristle bunched on underside. Carefully peel off skin and discard. Slice thin from tip end, gradually angling knife so slices are cutin uniform fashion. Serve at once; refrigerate unsliced leftover tongue and serve cold or use in other dishes. (Remove fat and gristle from roots and chop meat fine for use in a sandwich filling.)

'Fairest Of The Land' at Prom

BY ALICE REICHERT

Once upon a time, in the little kingdom of Terra Nova High, the Juniors of the kingdom declared a prom to be held the night of March 8, for all the Juniors of the land, and they called their Junior Prom, "Once upon a time."

Sixty-five of the prettiest girls in the land, and sixty-five of the handsomest boys attended the prom, reigned over by the beautiful Queen Lynda Arana, and the gallant King Mark Boyden, and their court: first princess Laura Williams, second princess Barbara Scopinich, first prince Bob Skog, and second prince Steve Richardson.

The subjects of the kingdom entered the ballroom through a drawbridge, to find a room gaily decorated with tiny castles on every table, made of the very finest aluminum foil, and a huge castle floating on an angel hair cloud stood at ye olde refreshment stand. They danced all night to the music of the Whyte Haven Pillar, their toes in glass slippess, and their heads in the clouds.

And the King and Queen, the Princes, and Princesses, and all the handsome men, and all the fair maidens of the kingdom enjoyed their "Once upon a time" and they lived happily ever after.

Webster P-TA To Hear Two Westmoorans

Miss Perky Gillespie and Miss Jaclyn Achille will be introduced as the guest speakers for Daniel Webster's regular P-TA unit meeting on Wednesday. Unit president Mrs. E. Hall will preside at the 8 p.m. meeting.

The girls will tell of their experiences abroad through the Experiment in International Living program. Both girls are senior students at Westmore High and are members of the school's International Friendship Club.

Miss Gillespie was hosted by a family in Alessandria, Italy, near Milan, and she also visited Rome, Assissi and Florence.

Miss Achille stayed with a family near the city of Matsuyma on the island of Skikoku. She also visited Kyoto, the shrine city of Japan, and climbed Mt. Fujiyama, outside of Tokyo.

The P-TA has planned a bookfair to be held in the school's multi-use room on Thursday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and again from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.; also on Friday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

With the help of Mrs. V. Smith, Daniel Webster's school librarian, many paperback books have been selected, keeping the kindergarten through sixth grade levels in mind.

There will also be books to interest young people through eighth grade, plus some adult selections.

Prices will range from 35 cents to $1.

Some of the books will be displayed at the March 20 meeting.

Westmoor Stage Band Live and on Tape; Ready for Reno Event

Fans of Westmoor's Stage Band faced a difficult choice last week. The band was performing in two different places at the same time. They were on a re-run on CSM-TV and in person in Westmoor's Little Theater, as a warmup for the University of Nevada Stage Band Festival, and to earn money to finance the trip to Reno for this event.

Though it was a cold, rainy night, a good crowd turned out to hear the band perform.

Director Howard Loeffler showed the band in some interesting events.

"Spring Can Really Hang You Up the Most," arranged especially for the group by Larry Blake, former Westmoor student, was a hit, as was Coach Bob Lualhati's performance on the string bass in "In the Mood."

Greg Adams, solo trumpetist and student leader, directed "Lil' Darlin' ".

A large number of supporters is expected to be on hand March 22 and 23 when the band will perform in Reno.

Last year the Westmoor Stage Band placed first in its class of schools with over 2000 enrollment.

Girl Scouts Hold Annual Observance

During the past 1½ months several area Brownie troops have had inter-troop activities on Washington's Birthday and Girl Scout Thinking Day, Troop 1049 and the Gilliam Brownie Girl Guides presented the same program, spanning continents—each singing the other's anthem, respecting one minute of silence for the world Girl Scout movement, reciting the promise, laws and motto of the individual country.

The girls played a world game and sent individual knots on an exchange basis. Mrs. Dennis Sargent, Brown Owl, heads the Gilliam.

In celebration of the Girl Scouts' birthday the troops 15, 436, 479, 717, 1049, 1704, 2154 and 2059 joined in a Brownie party at Broadmoor Community Hall. Entertainment included miming a good "turn," each troop teaching an action game or song.

'Beauty and the Beast' Theme For Beautification Confab

"Beauty and the Beast" is the theme of the third annual Civic Beautification Conference which will be presented by the Bay-Ocean District, California Garden Clubs on March 21.

Mrs. C. M. Yohn and Julian Hargrove, garden club members, are concerned about the blighted areas contained in their cities and agree that public knowledge is one of the most effective ways to produce constructive civic beautificatoin.

The public is urged to attend the conference which is under the chairmanship of Mrs. George A. Panaretos of Hillsborough. She announced that the event will be held at the Beresford Recreation Center, 2720 Alameda de las Pulgas, San Mateo.

Norvell Gellespie, moderator of the conference and executive vice-president of California Anti-Litter League, stated "Fantastic sums of money amounting to $50 million in this state alone, go toward the cost of picking up peoples leavings. How much wiser it is to spend this kind of money on more parks and improved recreational areas, than to pick up after sloppy citizens."

Registration at 9:30 a.m. will precede the 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. program of prominent speakers from many areas of the state. Lunch is included with registration.

Special exhibits will be provided by plant societies and conservation groups. Ornithology exhibits will show bird life on the bay and the Civic Beautification Committee of San Mateo will depict the heritage trees. Garden club members displaying flower arrangements include Mrs. A. R. Acosta, Mrs. Elmer M. Berliner, Mrs. Robert E. Busher, Mrs. Leon Chasson, Jack Daniels, Mrs. Chelsey Furgeson, Mrs. Donald R. George, Mrs. Gerard B. Heilman, Mrs. Jack E. hard, Mrs. Leonard J Lovett, Kueper, Mrs. Theodore Labhard, Mrs. Leonard J. Lovett, Mrs. Muriel Martin, Mrs. George A. Panaretos, and Mrs. Earle E. Sidelle.

YWCA Opening Spring Quarter Class Signups

Registration for the Spring quarter at the San Mateo YWCA will begin March 18.

Among the classes being offered are Chinese cooking, Chinese brush painting, astrology, golf, tennis and trimnastics.

Chinese cooking will be taught by Linda Lew at the Westlake Community Baptist Church, Elmwood Drive and Southgate, Daly City, at 1 to 3 p.m. on Thursdays.

Mrs. Lew is from a Chungking family, who placed great emphasis on culinary achievement. She brings this talent with her and anyone taking this course will be adding a new dimension to their cooking skill.

Chinese brush painting is also being held at Westlake Community Baptist Church. From 1 to 3 p.m. on Thursdays, Madeleine Fu will be teaching this beautiful and ancient art. Students can learn the traditional techniques quickly and soon be painting pictures suitable for framing.

Astrology classes are held from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursdays in the social room at 45 Southgate, Daly City.

Alexander Hoyer will teach the symbols and meanings of the 12 Zodiac signs.

Astrology I starts April 4 and will run for five weeks. Following this Astrology II will be held, and in this offering the plantetary influences will be studied and students will set up their own personal charts.

Then in an effort to prepare for summer fun the YWCA will hold classes in golf, tennis and trimnastics.

Golf will be taught by Ted Smith at Harding Park on Saturdays from 10 to 11 a.m. for adults and 11 to 12 for teens.

Tennis I is being taught from 10 to 11 on Saturdays by Jaime Collaco and Tennis II from 11 to 12 noon.

Trimnastics will meet twice a week from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. Barbara Morse will help students attain flexibility, agility, endurance, co-ordination and general good conditioning. Classes will be held at the Westlake Clubhouse.

Complete brochures on all classes are available at the YWCA, 375 South Mayfair, Room 217, Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City.

ORT Chapter Meets Today

The regular meeting of Buena Vista ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training) will be held today at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Robert Rudee, president, 209 Gateway Drive, Pacifica.

The guest speaker will be Shelly B. Meyers, director of the Hypnosis Society of America.

Daly City Teens

The Telstars Junior Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Department of Recreation, recently held a band dance at Westmoor Park Clubhouse, with 150 persons in attendance.

The band, called the "Edge of the Wild" lived up to its name when it performed a most unique "light show."

Following the dance, an informal party was held for Jim Benevides, one of the Junior Teen Advisors, who is leaving for Westside Teen Club. Delicious refreshments were served by the council members, and a great time was had by everyone.

Mark your calendars now for Saturday, March 23rd, when the Telstars will hold a swimming party. We are sure that everyone will want to attend this special event, as it is sure to be a real "splash."

The Know Names Junior Teen Club, will have a special dance on March 22 at Westlake Park Clubhouse. The dance will run from 7 to 9 p.m. and will feature a live band and an unusual "light show." Cost to members is 25 cents and 75 cents for their guests.

The Casualiers Junior Teen Club, has many plans for the next few months. Last Friday, they returned to the San Mateo Rolladium to roller skate.

Sports will be the focus for the next month. There will be a sports night for the Casualiers and then an inter-club volleyball tournament. Being the only club to win the volleyball trophy twice will be an incentive for the Casualiers to fight hard for a third year title as they "number one" club for sports.

SSF Parish Calendars A Festival

St. Veronica's parish in South San Francisco will present its annual "Festival of the Island" March 24 through 26 in the circus tent to be set up on the church grounds.

The Rev. Paul P. Coleman has appointed John Harness general chairman, and he will be assisted by William Jennings, co-chairman; Mrs. Michael O'Reilly, secretary, and Ed Tempone and Mrs. Jerome Kalb, booths.

A rummage sale will take place in conjunction with the festival. Mrs. Leo Makowski is chairman for the event which is scheduled for March 21 through 23 in the school hall. Anyone with usable items for the sale should bring them to the rectory basement or to Mrs. Makowski. Pickup service is available. Proceeds will benefit the parish building fund.

Young men interested in careersin the American Merchant Marine will have the opportunity to take an entrance examination to be given by the California Maritime Academy at Vallejo Saturday, April 6 at 9 a.m.

No fees, appointments or other prior arrangements are necessary to take the examination. This is the fourth examination to be given to select the next entering class of midshipmen. An additional examination will be given at the Academy May 4 and additional examinations will be given in a number of other areas throughout the state through May 4. School counselors have date, place and time.

High school graduates, including those who will be graduated this school year, are eligible to take the examination. Upon admission as midshipmen in August, candidates must be at least 17 years of age but not yet 22 and never have been married.

The California Maritime Academy, under the Statt Department of Education, prepares young men for future careers of leadership in the maritime industry. The course requires three years and includes three training cruises to foreign and United States ports.

Hayward Man Hurt

A Hayward man was injured Monday evening in San Carlos when the station wagon in which he was riding overturned on its top after being struck broadside by a compact car on Holly Street at Industrial Road shortly after 6 o'clock.

Policeman Pete Nannarone said that the station wagon driven by Felix O. Lujan, 54, of Oakland, a laborer, entered the intersection northbound on Industrial, failing to halt at a stop sign. The vehicle was struck by a westbound car driven by Douglas A. Larson, 24, of 630 Prospect Street, San Carlos, a pharmacist.

Injured was Lujan's passenger, Paul Guruwaiya, 60, who was treated at Sequoia Hospital for a head injury and a neck sprain and released.

Lujan told Nannarone that it was his first day on a job in San Carlos and he failed to see the stop sign. Nannarone recommended in his report that Lujan be cited.

Macaroon-Filled Coffee Ring

This "Macaroon Filled Coffee Ring" looks good, is good.

MACAROON FILLED COFFEE RING

- 1 package (¼ oz.) active dry yeast
- 2 tablespoons hot water
- ½ cup milk
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 egg
- 2 cups flour
- 6 cups tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
- Macaroon Filling
- Melted butter or margarine

MACAROON FILLING

- ¾ cup whole blanched almonds
- 1 egg
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
- ½ cup fine dry cake crumbs
- ¾ teaspoon almond extract
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Stir yeast into hot water until dissolved. Scald milk, stir in sugar, salt and lemon rind and cool to lukewarm. Stir in yeast. Beat egg into milk mixture then mix in flour. Knead 5 or 6 times until dough is smooth.

Cover, let rise in warm place until doubled in volume, about 1 to 1½ hours. Turn out onto lightly floured board and roll into 15 x 12-inch (thin) rectangle. Spread with 4 tablespoons of the butter. Fold ends toward middle to form 3 layers, about 12 x 5 inches. Roll out again as thin as possible and spread with remaining 2 tablespoons butter. Fold again into 3 layers and let stand 10 minutes. This time roll out to 16 x 10-inch rectangle, spread with Macaroon Filling (pat on with hands) and roll like jelly roll, starting from 16-inch side. Transfer roll to greased shallow pan and place seam-side down. Bring ends together to form a ring and seal. Snip with scissors almost through roll at 1-inch intervals. Turn each slice slightly to face up. Flatten ring a bit. Brush with melted butter and let rise in warm spot ½ hour. Bake above center of oven at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. After baking, brush with butter again and drizzle with powdered sugar-milk glaze if you like.

Macaroon Filling: Grind almonds in electric blender or put through fine blade of food chopper. Beat egg lightly; stir in almonds and remaining ingredients.

It's Cold, Hot and Very Easy

If you're good at guessing riddles, try this one: what is cold and hot, an entree and a salad, is easy to prepare and simpley delicious?

Give up? The answer if "Fish Fillets Iceberg," a main dish with a built-in salad.

Crisply chilled slices of western iceberg lettuce provides the "cold," and the "hot" comes from a colorufl topping made from fish fillets simmered in an onion and cheese flavored tomato sauce. Served with a crusty hot bread, low-cost "Fish Fillets Iceberg" makes a satisfying luncheon dish. It is hearty enough for supper when served with a baked potato and relishes.

FIish Fillets Iceberg

- 1 head western iceberg lettuce
- lb. fillet of sole or cod, fresh or frozen, thawed
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sliced leeks or ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce with cheese
- 2 hard-cooked eggs
- Parsley

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in plastic crisper or disposable plastic bag. Cut fillets into portion-size pieces. Melt butter in large skillet; add fillets, leeks, salt and tomato sauce. Cover and simmer over low heat about 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork but is still moist. Cut each egg into 4 wedges. Cut lettuce into 4 thick crosswise slices; place on individual plates. Spoon hot fish sauce over and garnish with egg and parsley. Serve at once.

Makes 4 servings.

Skillet-Easy Deviled Eggs

Oh - so - gentle on the budget are skillet-easy deviled eggs. Cut 4 hardcooked eggs in half; remove yolks. Mash yolks with 1 can (3 ounces) tuna and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; refill whites. Place eggs in skillet. Combine 2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with mushrooms, 2 tablespoons water and ½ teaspoon leaf thyme; pour over eggs. Simmer 10 minutes to blend flavors. Serve over hot cooked noodles or rice to four servings.

Warriors Defeat Crestmoor 'Nine'

When South San Francisco High baseball coach Bob Brian wants to win a game, he simply calls on his son, Bruce.

The stocky Warrior hurler who just finished playing basketball the previous week, won his second game in five days for the Warriors Friday as South SF bested Crestmoor, 4-1, at Orange Park.

Bruce struck out seven and allowed only four hits in posting his second straight mound victory. The triumph gave South SF a 3-0 mark for the 1968 practice season.

Steve Pennington provided the power for the Warriors as he crashed out a two-run homer in the bottom of the first inning. Larry Bernadini, who had previously singled, was aboard.

Pupils Named To Pacifica Park Board

Two teen-age high school students will be appointed to the Parks, Beach and Recreation Commission in Pacifica.

Councilmen Wednesday approved a proposal from the seven-member commission for appointment of a student from each of the city's two high schools to serve with "full powers" as commission members.

The students will have voting privileges, and will serve one-year terms, beginning in June of each year.

The new appointments will increase the total commission membership to nine, and the students will not replace any of the existing commissioners, councilmen said.

The city will ask student council groups at each of the schools to select two candidates for the posts, and one candidate from each school will be selected by the city council.

A question of the legality of appointing minors to a city commission was raised at the meeting, but City Attorney John Sherman said the appointments will be legal, since the P. B. and R. Commission is an advisory body, and its decisions are neither final nor binding.

Sherman said a problem of legality would arise if minors were appointed to other city commissions, such as the planning commission, because of the legal age factor.

Padres Top Their Foes

The Serra High School swim team went to its deep bench Friday and still came up a winner.

Coach Gus DeGrara gave most of the Padre aces the day off and used his reserves to score an impressive West Catholic Athletic League triangular victory over Riordan and Mitty High Schools at the Riordan pool. Serra garnered 79 points with Riordan scoring 63 and Mitty getting 7 points.

The victory gave Serra a 4-0 WCAL mark and advanced the Pad's over-all record to 5-0.

Ron Baran was a double winner for the Padres, annexing the 200 yard individual medley in 2:22.6 and coming back to win the 100 yard back in 1:05.8.

Terra Nova Edges S.M. In Baseball

Terra Nova High School's baseball team, sparked by the five-hit pitching performance of Bob Turner, scored a 1-0 triumph over San Mateo in an inter-league practice game in Pacifica Firda.y

The Tigers collected but three hits themselves, but made them count more lethally than the snake-bitten Bearcats. Terra Nova got its only run in the fourth inning when Gary Hernandez singled home Bill Downing for the game's only score.

The victory squared Terra Nova's season record at 2-2.

Aragon Batters Westmoor Nine

Aragon High School's baseball team hit the ball for the first time this season, collecting eight hits en route to a 4-3 decision over Westmoor in an inter-league game Friday.

The Don mound corps limited Westmoor to five hits.

El Camino Surprises Warriors

The North Peninsula League track season opened on a mutual note of consistency and surprise Friday at Westmoor and El Camino High Schools.

Consistency was the watchword of the Westmoor Rams, perennial power in the NPL track and field, who showed all their old prowess in a 95-42 conquest of Oceana.

Surprise was the keynote of El Camino's efforts against South San Francisco, which gave the Colts a 77-51 victory in their dual meet and promise of contention in the race for the league title.

El Camino cashed in on strength in the distance races, slamming both the mile and two mile and garnering eight points in the 880. The Colts' Ernie Dawson, running all alone, posted a creditable mark for the two mile with 9:58.4 clocking.

Scott Ellington of South S.F., however, came through with the best mark of the day and one of the best by any Peninsula prep this season when he won the high jump at 6-2¼. Double winners included Russ Cottrell, who took both sprints in 10.1 and 22.8, and El Camino's Dean Case, who ran the 440 in 52 seconds flat and long-jumped 21-2¾.

At Westmoor, the Rams' Vic Davis, a sophomore, won the 100 and 220 as overall depth took the toll of the visiting Sharks. Oceana's Tom Sershin ran a 52.5 quarter and also won the high hurdles.

Random Notes About Youth and Little League

Following are some random, un-used and/or deleted items culled from notes taken while yours truly was doing research for a magazine article on Little League:

"I've never met a kid whose troubles started because he came a-cropper in supervised competitive sports." A quote from Pacifican Jack Munson, a clinical psychologist at San Francisco's Youth Guidance Center.

Many "youth-watchers" interviewed felt that Little Leaguers are too closely supervised. Dr. Floyd Gonella, principal at Daly City's Thornton High, said that he'd rather see kids choose up sides and umpire their own games on a sandlot than tolerate what's happened to some of the heavily parent-oriented Little League teams.

This was in answer to charges by some devout Little League people that kids need the competition which Little League provides them. What Gonella was attempting to point out is that there's a difference between competition and organized, supervised competition, and that choosing sides on a sandlot is certainly competitive.

Gonella and Munson agree that our society is predicated on competition, that it's natural, and that children WILL naturally choose games for themselves appropriate to their own level of development, whether it be hop-skotch or sidewalk football.

IN OTHER WORDS, some Little Leaguers are involved in "over-play;" to be frank, they're being over-supervised, over-coached, and as a result are having their imagination, individuality and initiative stiffled.

Ed Tomasello of Daly City Recreation Department figures it's six one way, half dozen the other.

"In this urban society in which we now live," says Ed, "there literally are not any empty lots left. We have to intelligently, economically use all the free space we have. This means more adult supervision. You have to keep kids busy, and I'd rather over-supervise them than leave them on the streets, on their own."

(And then there was the story, never really substantiated, about the Little League whiz who's father got a job with the sponsor of a particular LL squad because the father had steered his son toward that team.)

Joe Gaggero, Jr., director of baseball for the San Francisco Recreation Department, had some interesting comments.

One of his main themes was that Little Leaguers are often physically and mentally used up as pre-teeners, and that by the time they reach high school they've become so saturated with the sport that they quit athletics and many times drift into trouble.

HE TALKED ABOUT the parents and coaches who don't know the basic rudiments of baseball and who, for an example, get hold of a big, strong armed kid, make him a pitcher, and use him too often; so often that he's a sore-armed washout by the time he's 12.

"What good player did Little League baseball in San Francisco ever produce?" he asked; and provided his own answer, "No one. They were all tired of it by the time they got to high school."

The San Francisco midget leagues, incidentally, have, under Gaggero's direction, worked out a fine program wherein parents are productively and significantly involved, and in which the kid players are actually learning something besides how many rewards winning brings.

In this particular league, parents pitch to the players — there are no "student" pitchers! The rationale behind this unique innovation makes sense. As Gaggero points out, midget (Little Leagues) are pitcher-oriented. One big kid who can throw the ball hard can completely dominate, strike out 18-20 batters a game. When kids are striking out, Gaggero notes, the ball isn't in play, and as a consequence nobody except the pitcher and catcher is learning anything.

With parents lobbing the ball up there, however, everybody gets a chance to hit, the ball is in play, and little people are learning how to play their positions, baserunners are learning how to run bases, etc.

It's a good idea, we think, not only because kids do learn the game better, but because parents can participate actively without abusing umpires and coaches from the stands.

And that consumes our extraneous notes on Little League.

ONE OF THE MOST AMUSING ARTICLES we've read recently appeared in a local Sunday supplement on September 22, 1957. It was entitled, "The Mayor of San Francisco Tells: How We Won the Giants," and was naturally, a griping first person account by George Christopher.

What George did in this article, as the title implies, was to tell the "inside" details of how he convinced Horace Stoneham to bring his Giants to San Francisco.

The amusing part came when he listed as one of his three major selling points San Francisco weather. Horace, he said, had heard so much about "Frisco fog that he was very worried about it.

"I would be foolish to deny we have fog," said Christopher, "(but) it is most frequent in only certain sections. IT IS NOT TROUBLESOME AT ALL AT THE STADIUM SITE."

Well, now, to begin with, we all know that that is an outright tall tale, because one or two games at Candelstick have come close to being called because of fog. So while it isn't a major problem, it was absolutely misleading of Christopher to say that it was not at all troublesome.

But we've got to hand it to shrewd George. If he fibbed about the fog, he managed to completely avoid the subject of wind — probably because even HE wouldn't have had the stomach to tell Horace that THAT was no problem.

DON'T GET US WRONG. We were born in San Francisco and love it truly, and there are sections of the city that have gorgeous weather. But Hunters Point sure as heck never was one of them, and Christopher and Charley Harney (who owned 90 per cent of that land) both San Franciscans — knew it. If we were Stoneham, we'd be damned mad.

And, oh yes: There's the matter of the artist's 1957 conception of Candlestick, right there in all its illustrated glory alongside the Polo Grounds and Seals Stadium. You should see how Candlestick looked then! Wonderfully flat, beautifully landscaped, parking virtually at its front gates . . . if only they would have hired that artist to design Candlestick.

'ROUGH PLAY' CHARGE

Jeff High Bans 49er Cage Club

Alleged rough play by 49'er end Monte Stickles hs caused the traveling pro football team's basketball squad to be banned at Jefferson High School.

Ed Cereghino, acting principal and a great "bonus baby" for the New York Yankees as a pitcher some 20 years ago, wrote to President Lou Spadia rapping the conduct of the rugged offensive end.

Stickles has been in numerous scrapes before including an assault charge against a soldier when he was in the service and a pending suit filed against him by a Playboy Bunny.

Cereghino wrote:

Dear Mr. Spadia:

On Friday evening, March eighth, the 49er All Stars played a basketball game against our faculty team at Jefferson High School. A crowd of youngsters and adults — numbering about five hundred — came prepared for an evening of fun and relaxation. Certain occurrences during the game caused the fans, instead, to express disgust and disgruntlement.

While the description which is about to be given borders on the Pickwickian, it elicits little amusement from our quarter. With only a minute and a half to play, Mr. Johnson, a member of our faculty team, stole the ball from Mr. Stickles, who immediately placed a headlock on Mr. Johnson, Mr. Delman, one of the referees, advised Mr. Stickles to leave the game. Mr. Stickles then struck Mr. Delman on the forehead with his open hand. There followed a mild fan reaction, which became somewhat more vociferous when Mr. Stickles refused to leave the game. Mr. Murray, the other referee, advised Mr. Stickles that the game would be forfeited if he refused to leave the court. Mr. Stickles then dislodged the basketball from Mr. Murray's grasp, causing it to roll down court. Additionally, according to Mr. Murray, Mr. Stickles treated him to some pointed and profane language. Mr. Stickles then waved the rest of his team from the floor.

Our youngsters and parents were disappointed and upset, and some members of our faculty team were indignant. The administrative staff cleared the gymnasium and locker room as soon as possible, and the situation assuaged somewhat.

We are most prone to judge the behavior of a group by the antics of one, and this is unfortunate. I made reference here to only one of your players, and I want the record to show that the other gentlemen handled themselves in a truly professional fashion. As a former professional athlete, I was appalled and embarrassed by Mr. Stickles' antics. An evening of fun and relaxation ended on a disappointing note. Such a display did this high school no great service, and I can assure you that no good will has accrued to your organization because of it.

On behalf of my principal, Mr. Ribera, I wish to indicate that as far as we are concerned at Jefferson High School, the 49er All Stars will not again be welcome here. To the referees and members of our faculty team, I express my apologies; all are gentlemen and handled themselves with class.

Westmoor, Jeff Spikes to Meet

Already off to a good start, the Westmoor track team will face rival Jefferson on their home field Friday.

Last Friday the Rams downed Oceana, 95-42. Vic Davis, a sophomore at Westmoor, was a double winner, taking the 100 in 10.5 and the 220 in 24.5.

Tim Sershan was Ocean's only double winner. He took the 120 highs in 15.3 and the 440 in 52.5.

The highlight of the meet was the mile relay. Oceana's Sershan just nipped Westmoor's Narvis Thompson at the wire to win in 3:34.5.

Jim Lewis won the high jump at 5'10", a couple of inches short of his own school record.

Westmoor also won the B's and the C's meets by scores of 82-43 and 78-22.

Bruce Pope was a triple winner for Westmoor in the B's. Pope won the 440 in 55.6, the 180 lows in 22.8 and the long jump with a 16'7" effort. He also ran a fast leg of the winning mile relay team.

Another Ram, sophomore Dave Vasquez won the C's 440 and 880 in times of 55.7 and 2:11. His performance was overshadowed by Scott Heaton who won the 100, 220 and long jump. His marks were 11.1, 25.1, 17'4".

Elliot Mark, continuing his winning ways, won the C shot for the Rams with a put of 47' 7".

MRS. CAUDILL OF SAN FRANCISCO: "I SAVED BETWEEN $800 AND $900!"

"My husband, Reverend Caudill and I, had been looking for a new car for quite a while and our neighbor bought at Gateway, and told us about his good deal. So we thought we would try it. We got a very good trade for our old car. We have talked to other people and I think we got a very good deal . . . between $800 and $900 maybe. It was certainly worth shopping here at the New Gateway Chevrolet."

Yolanda Fambrini Has Extraordinary Skill

YOLANDA'S TERMINAL CAFE manager, Chuck Winstead, informs us that owner Yolanda Fambrini was Lawrence Welk's original "Champagne Lady." Now, along with her extraordinary skill in the kitchen of her South San Francisco restaurant, the petite ex-songstress has been persuaded to provide entertainment on Wednesday and Thursday nights . . . When it comes to remembering old friends, former San Francisco Mayor Jack Shelley does a pretty fair job. Casually dropping in Bruno's restaurant in the Mission District, Jack dug right in with cronies he remembered during the height of his political career eventually leading him to Washington and the Mayor's plush chair in the City Hall . . Jay DeKeyser has opened The Chestnut for lunches on a daily basis, and the mid-day crowds almost rival the number of people who show up for the nightly Topless Revue. The luncheon menu consists of pizza, a variety of sandwiches and an abundance of cold beer. Diane, Carol, Jeanee and Candy are the cuties on hand to serve the food.

THE EXCITING AND TALENTED Trio Bel Canto returned to Mike Kourkoutakis' Alexi's Zorba supperclub in Burlingame, last weekend, and are proving why their Mediterranean music, which has won them 10 Gold Records, is the talk of this country and Europe. Back by popular demand, the Trio Bel Canto — Mike Manthaios, John Papamacariou and Angelo Metaxa, is one of the most sought-after musical combinations on the nitely circuit today. After the limited engagement at Alexi's Zorba, which will be their only West Coast appearance, Trio Bel Canto will return to Greece, via the East Coast for a recording session. Featured numbers and most-requested by the patrons, are "Never On Sunday" and the haunting "Zorba The Greek." Another Alexi's Zorba supperclub feature is the expertly prepared Greek cusine by chef Peter Alex. Cover charge on Friday and Saturday evenings only.

NOW THROUGH THURSDAY, the Heap Big Beef in Millbrae will be offering a unique "Shopping Bag Special." For the price of only 99 cents, which even includes tax, manager Tom Hickey will feature a Heap Big Beef roast beef sandwich, French fries, cole slaw, Pawnee Pie and an Indianaid drink. Valid only through Thursday, March 21. There is no coupon to present. When ordering, simply ask for the "Shopping Bag Special" . . . As many of the Peninsula's restaurant and lounge people spend their evenings off at Fabbros, the pop Redwood City restaurant has a reputation of being an "in" dining spot. Almost any evening will find prominent personalities gathered here for a chat with owner Frank Fabbro and a serving of chef Emelio's fine cuisine . . . Fred Martinelli is back at the helm of his Oliver's restaurant, after a recent illness. As industrious as ever, Fred was caught in the act of preparing for yet more remodeling of his Airport Blvd. restaurant, which, when completed, will be practically rebuilt.

DINED AT NICK'S IN PACIFICA, last Sunday, and the coastside restaurant-lounge was doing a capacity turn-over business, as usual. Nick Gust took a few minutes off to show Yours Truly the progress made on his new across-the-street Nick's addition which will preem about the first of May. Very plush with an unusual nautical decor, every table in the tiered dining room will afford a fabulous view of the ocean. Speaking of the blue Pacific: It was told to me that Nick's waitresses, headed up by "Georgia," "cool off their tootsies" after putting in a restaurant shift on a balmy afternoon or late evening with a stroll on the nearby sandy beach. Incidentally, Nick's is a great place for that special Sunday morning breakfast. Restaurant service from 10 a.m. Something else that's well worth a mention: Slip over to the organ bar and relax over a tall, cool one while vocalist Mary Ann Hay and Don Kelly entertain you with old and new song favorites. Dick Snyder and his musical aggregation play for dancing Friday and Saturday.

Nick Gust

ONE OF THE BEST "nightly doubles" on the Peninsula is entered under the Emerson Murfee "silks" at the Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants. Namely, "Bernard" at the Lanai and Walter "Ceaser Salad" Glinsky at the Villa Chartier. These gents are as familiar to Peninsula diners as Joe Cohen is to Bay Meadows patrons. Watching Walter prepare one of his famous Caeser Salads is a layman's treat, as is his professional blending of special dessert ingredients . . . Bob McCloud is the chef with culinary imagination at San Mateo's Fork 'n' Cork. Co-owner Julie Proul created the new five-item menu with Bob's abilities in mind. The Fork 'n' Cork is now open for Sunday dining from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. Children's plate is only $1.50 . . . Diners in the elegant Wellington Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco stopped steak chewing for eye viewing when Steve McQueen strolled in for his steak dinner. With him were a half dozen from his crew of the movie he's shooting here.

It hasn't been an easy task getting the many diners of Augie's on Third Avenue acquainted with the idea that this downtown San Mateo restaurant now serves a complete Italian dinner, along with the charcoal broiler specials. But they do — and a mighty tasty one, too. Full course seafood dinners are also house specials — and priced from just $3.50. Augie's serves both lunch and dinner.

Johnny and The Chosen Few are now headlining the nightly entertainment at San Mateo's action-packed Fireside Lounge. Playing for dancing and the musical pacing of the All-Girl Topless Revue, the group provides continuous entertainment from 9 p.m. every night of the week.

The Bay Area's top name bands are show cased every Saturday and Sunday morning on the Fireside's after-hours shows. Between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., most of the Peninsula night people show up to enjoy breakfast and listen to the sounds. Credit co-owner Phil Maita for initiating the successful early a.m. shows.

A "mountain" of hors d'oeuvres, both hot and cold, tempts the appetites of after-work relaxers in the lounge of Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. each night. After a couple of libations and an hour of munching on tasty tidbits, it's no wonder husbands aren't hungry when arriving home for dinner.

Pacifica Telephone Solicitation Report

The Pacifica council is considering adoption of an ordinance prohibiting sales solicitation by telephone in the city.

Mayor Grace McCarthy suggested Wednesday that an ordinance providing either licensing or prohibition of such soliciting be considered "because of the growing number of complaints" from residents regarding this type of business activity.

City Manager C. W. Masonheimer said his office has received about 25 such complaints during the past year.

"Some people just don't like to be disturbed at home," Masonheimer said.

Councilman Rick Wallis questioned the desirability of an ordinance prohibiting telephone solicitation.

"With all the people we have on the welfare rolls, I am inclined to encourage those who want to work, regardless of what kind of work it is," Wallis said.

Councilmen instructed the manager to prepare a report on the matter for consideration at the next regular meeting.

$144,686 Is Needed For Jeff District

It will take an additional $144,686 for the Jefferson High School District to operate because trustees last week decided not to put new Serramonte High School classes on the Westmoor campus next term, according to Fred Goodell, assistant superintendent for finances.

However, money-wise, that cost is less than had the board agreed to one of the three alternative plans: double, concurrent or staggered sessions.

Double sessions to handle both Serramonte and Westmoor school classes would have cost $274,098; concurrent sessions, $158,072; and staggered sessions (a compromise combination of double and concurrent sessions), $181,700.

Under the plan adopted by trustees, this cost estimate has been submitted by district administrators:

Space and bulding needs, $60,500; clerical personnel, $6,500; custodial personnel, $4,500; transportation, $3,800; faculty and administration, $56,233.

Goodell has pointed out that approximately $57,000 will be spent in 1968-69 to plan for the opening of Serramonte.

Four From Crestmoor In B-A Competition

Four seniors from Crestmoor High School have been selected to represent the San Bruno school in the 1968 Bank of America Achievement Awards program, George F. Kristovich, principal, announced today.

The top winners, chosen by the school's faculty members, will receive trophies and will compete for cash awards ranging up to $1,000.

The trophy winners and the study fields in which they were honored are Kevin O'Brien, science and mathematics; Cathy Mitchell, fine arts; Niki Star, liberal arts; and Linda Ruggeri, vocational arts.

Eleven other students were cited for superior performance in specific fields of study and will receive certificates of merit. They are Loretta Keller, science; Terry Christman, mathematics; James LaPorte, English; Mary Garrett, social science; Mary Anne Morris, foreign language; Catherine Marchand, drama; Donald Hauser, music; Juris Dumpis, art; Louise Peters, home economics; Sandra Queen, business, and John Levi, industrial arts.

FOR DIVIDED VACATIONS

Councilman Matsuo Takabuki says Augustine Salvat, Mexico's minister of tourism, favors direct flights between Acapulco or Mexico City to Hawaii. Takabuki adds that Salvat feels that such air service would be a logical link for tourists who wish to visit both Mexican and Hawaiian resorts.
